

From Revolution to Renaissance

A Planned Pathway

The following steps are suggested to be a path to the freedom, justice, peace and equality that all of humanity desires. Meant to be a guide, it is fluid, changing and written to be amended, but ultimately it will pave a way for a society of people to get from point A to B. It can be considered a manifesto, pursued by a Core Novus Collective. (CNC)

This step by step guide and its ideas are meant to spread virally, globally, with those considered to be "Original" people of the planet, spear heading the research, organization and application of the steps. The steps indirectly focus on solutions for the basic needs of the entire population, providing purpose for life, separation from an identifiable SYSTEM thus, freeing them up from a "consumer" or "third world" status, ultimately unifying the masses to create a better people and planet.

It is intended to centralize positive agendas & strategies within a particularly active community, the "Conscious community," thereby helping to clarify necessary and realistic political & social goals, while eliminating demagoguery, establishments of cults and conspiracy theories.

The desired goals of the Core Novus Collective are identified. This proposed path takes into consideration politics, religion, war, courtship, family, race, economics, technology, education, labor, infrastructure, transportation, shelter, health care, safety (security), entertainment, agricultural, law, environment, and finally, space travel (a primary goal of the CNC). A Planned Pathway is meant to change deportment/human behavior and sparking a "renaissance" in science for the Original people of the Earth. Transhumanistic thought can flourish in the fertile soil of a Scientific Socialist (non-Marxist) society. Hopefully, these steps are adopted by organizations and groups as "mission statements" additions with their current endeavors. These steps are the glue for unification using "collective" goals and objectives which bring about a Core Novus (A new core).

Core Novus – is a cognitive system to subsequent emotions to reasoning and moral codes. Training involves the belief to live, to learn and to seek the Creator not through religion, but through scientific research of the creation.

Core Novus Collective- is a group of individuals with New Core (principles) dedicated and to the goal of promoting science literacy throughout humanity as a lifestyle choice. Group is known for planet restoration activities and preparing humanity to be conducive to its primary goal; becoming spacefaring people.

Conscious Community – are groups dedicated to uplift black people around the globe from a mentally dead, deaf blind and dumb state. A group that consists of various Afrocentric beliefs but mostly spiritually “aware” of their past, present and future true traditions, behaviors, culture and purpose in existence.

God- A force and power in, of, through and beyond physics, mathematics and currently, comprehension; but can be connected to in a higher spiritual realm using “teachings” from selected humans.

Masses- Majority of the population of the planet that are consumers, nationalistic and indoctrinated with the various belief systems created by this world and the SYSTEM.

N-Variable – A measure of the destructive, repugnant, socially deprived, self-hating, mental state of an individual and/or group. Or the mental state of an individual varying from the highest N-Variable level, that of being beast like in nature, (lowest mental level) to lowest N-Variable state, Christ like (Highest mental level).

Perfection – The ability to correct your mistakes in a timely manner, assuming they are correctable. A state never obtained by humans but should always be pursued by humans according to Core Novus Collective principles.

Revolution- The forcible overthrow of government(s) or an unfavorable system of belief for a new system.

Renaissance – A cultural rebirth (lifestyle) that occurs based on old and new literature, science and scriptural interpretation.

The SYSTEM – Heavily funded minority groups of organizations and individuals connected through networking channels that govern, establish laws, rules and manipulations that go against the majority of the population of the planet to maintain population, wealth, power and order. A controlling force that produces, & maintains control over consumer populations. (Modern day slave).

PHASE I- Learn all you can and seek the Creator.

STEP 1: New Individual Ethics and Morals defined

(Collective standard & criteria personally accepted)

It starts with you; an individual assessment level. Are you willing to be a contributor... not to a "black revolution" but to the "renaissance" and to benefit all of humanity with black people at the forefront? Instead of reflecting on the tragic history of what was "Rosewood," a "Black Wall Street," a Middle passage or the lost knowledge to build the pyramids, are you able to ask yourself.... am I ready to rebuild? Step 1, is the acceptance of a personal unifying code of behavior, having criteria for public appearance, behavior expectations defined, and moral standard to support existing personal religious beliefs. A unifying criterion for what is considered acceptable human behavior is needed. There is a saying commonly seen on Facebook by an anonymous person that reads....." Why are you looking up? God is not sending anyone.... He has already sent you!"

An individual in the masses and conscious community should look at what is their purpose in life and ask...what do I want it to be? What is expected of me? Before blaming a white man, capitalism, imperialism, a nation, race or religion, take the quick personal assessment below....

- Would you dedicate your life to learn all you can and seek THE Creator?
_____
- Would you live a life that could be similar to Amish in America? Or, although different, a Monk or Nun in a monastery? _____
- Do I want to change self and see a need for changing the world? _____
- Can you reframe from excessive sports, smoke, drink, drug usage and entertainment to pursue a life of dedication and committed work to benefit yourself and others? _____
- Can you grow an interest in science and math? _____
- Can you improve in your vocabulary and learn conflict resolution skills to use in daily life situations? _____
- Can you stop stealing, no matter what circumstances? _____
- Can you stop lying, no matter what circumstances? _____
- Can you follow a proper diet? _____
- Can you see Africa as the birthplace of all humanity and the population as one human race? _____
- Can you subscribe to a discipline that balances your emotions and makes them subsequent to reason? _____

STEP 2: Individual obligation to obtain basic education -- Reading, Writing, Math, Science/K-10th (General knowledge) from cradle to grave process.

You can be smarter than a 10th grader. You are going to need to be to build this future. With the majority of the population bent towards Transhumanist ideas and thought, humanity must learn to come to terms with its ability to create technology and to use it wisely and in harmony with the planet. In order for a people to create a substantial and prosperous world, one possibly spoken of in scripture as the "hereafter,.... right, "here" on this planet, "after" a new world is created, the Collective, the conscious community and the masses must all have a higher education. As we make ways to educate (oneself, yourself), with self-paced and constant streams of learning, one can find the time by reducing their sport and play of the world. Consider the average time of a movie...(2 hrs.). Now, consider the amount of movies watched in a life time. Unless entrainment is somewhat educational and informative, valuable time is wasted. Lifestyles are needed to be designed, pushed through curriculums to educate through entertainment and have entertaining education.

Resistance to simply accept conspiracy theory is crucial. Television and films will promote whatever stereotypes that are amusing, exciting and most importantly in this world, lucrative, at the expense of others. Your new mind (world) should be a world of entertainment AND education. Curriculums are designed with the best methods and techniques for building the mind. From "Mozart effect" research and African drums beat(s) to the womb to using red, white and black mobiles only in the crib. From diet, exercise and African holistic curriculum to computer coding and languages, the bar for basic level education is raised throughout youth to adult ages. Always strive for perfection. Techniques, systems and ideas should be assessed and evaluated to determine the best route from total dependence of institutionalized education to self-educated paths and combination of both. An education for building a nation is stressed within the self-education process.

STEP 3: Ma'at foundation accepted – enhancement of existing spiritual belief and a base unifier for behavior.

Any planned pathway for a revolution is based on unity. One can remain an Independent, Chinese, Hungarian, Black, Scottish, Democrat, Christian, Jew, Muslim, etc., but all can apply themselves to a common cause by the unifying concept of Ma'at. Gabriel Bandele of Bandele Publications has an excellent poster published with a brief definition, the principles, virtues and Declarations of Maat. When the 42 declarations are accepted as guides to common community behavior, the result of this acceptance can be a lifestyle that can unite or group together as a foundation of a new world. The virtues of Maat; truth, righteousness, harmony, balance, reciprocity, justice and order are the virtues that this world cries out for. Ma'at declarations and principles do not filter out societies undesirable behavior, only differentiates between good and bad behavior when accepted as personal belief and as a guide in a diversity of cultures, tenants, faiths traditions and beliefs. Social cohesion is possible when learned, accepted and applied.

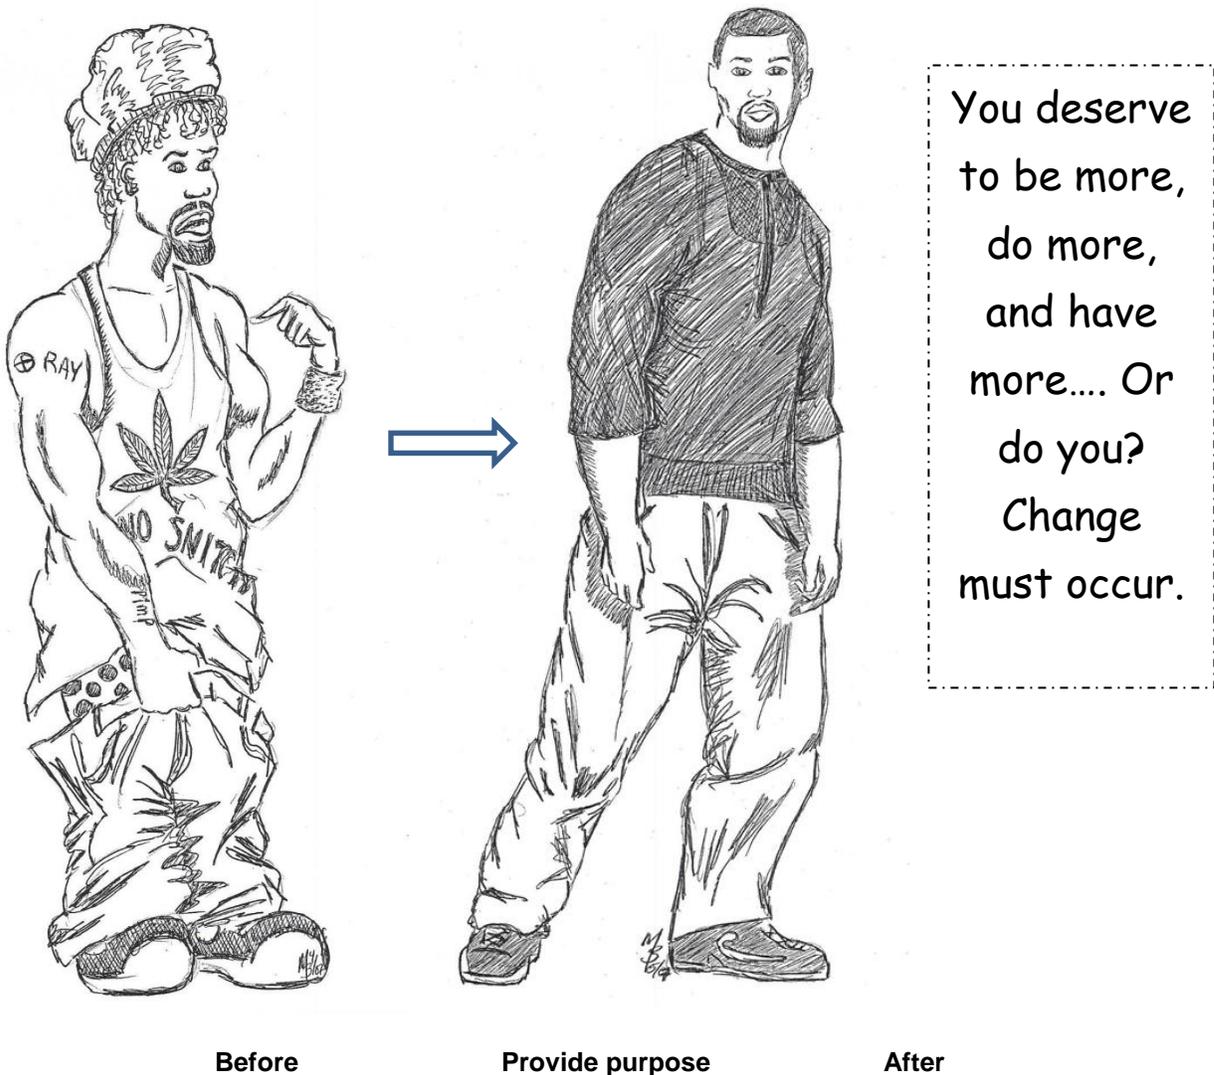

It is to be expected and understood that there will be those that do not believe in a One God concept, yet claim to be conscious. One should keep in mind the Collective, inspired by a "V'ger" concept of Star Trek the Motion Picture ®, requires all within the Collective, to "seek out THE Creator." Our Universe is believed to contain 10 trillion galaxies. Our own galaxy is estimated to have nearly 100 billion stars. We circle around our one star (Sun) and the nearest star to us is 4.4 light years away. At what is the fastest speed possible in our universe, light, this means it would take a little over four years to travel from star to star. Consider the space necessary to hold 100 octillion stars! To claim to know THE God before traveling to a few thousands of worlds, and meeting, communicating, understanding thousands of off world intelligent life forms is mockery of the Divine and spiritually defeating to humanity. Thus, this spiritual foundation for some, a scientific endeavor for the rest, requires a belief or search in the One God. Mastery of one's self is based on the idea that there is a cosmological and universal order within the universe and that one can connect themselves with it. Whether humanity has the ability and knowledge to make that connection is speculative, considering the current state of the world, it has not happen, and one should not pretend so. However, this does not negate the pursuit.

Religious doctrine is inconsequential. There are only two Core Novus rules, that will ultimately make you socially rival or guaranteed to make you a better Christian, Muslim, capitalist, socialist, Plumber, Jew, Buddhist, Human, Politician, Husband, Wife, leader, Teacher, Democrat, Basketball player, Sibling, Cook, Scientist, Republican, African, Astro physicist, European, Nephew, Chairman, IT expert, Secretary, South American, Pope, Communist, Lawyer, Architect, Transhumanist, Liberal, Business owner, Geologist, Executive, Seaman, Marine, Manager, Cleaner, Painter, Baker, Solider, Biochemist, Niece, Imam, Actor, Singer, Barber, Priestess, Police man, Judge, Mayor, Farmer, Chancellor, Waiter, Butcher, Deacon, Pastor, Engineer, Priest, King, Anthropologist, Monk, Athlete, Claims Examiner, Brother, Fire Keeper, Employee, Promoter, Aunt, Supervisor, Duke, Nurse, Secretary of Staff, Shaman, VooDoo Priest, Carpenter, Core Novian, Doctor, Artist, Band teacher, Bell hop, Counselor, Astronaut, Prime Minister, Fire man, Bartender, Zulu, Director, President, Life Coach, Bio physicist, Investor, Arbitrator, Electrician, Vice President, Gambler, National secret adviser, Mullah, Cashier, Uncle, Concierge, Air traffic controller, Bailiff, Dentist, Entrepreneur, Chemist, Boss, Football player, CEO, Revolutionist, Cost Estimator, Emperor, Associate R Nipian, Snow nos, Fundit Dishwasher, Fellow, Accountant, Agricultural specialist, Mathematician, Commercial Driver, Herbad, Ugandan, Traveling man, Five Percenter, Guru, Manicurist, Linguist teacher, Doctor, Landscaper, Nun, Treasurer, Tree hugging hippie, Mobad, Writer, Swami, Friend, Conservative, Ales, Resiologist, Algorithm Developer, Animal Scientist, Economist, Auditor, Boiler operator, News Anchor, Bus Driver, Child Care specialist, Interpreter, Machine Operator, Financial manager, Aviation inspector, Pilot, Dispatcher, Coach, neighbor, Grounds keeper, Clergy, Librarian, Geoscientist, Communication worker, Flight attendant, healthcare specialist, Arch Bishop, Whole sell buyer, Microbiologist, Food prep specialist, Compliance Officer, Grandmother, Governor, Music Composer, Daughter, Theologian, Human resource manager, Inspector, Insurance claims appraiser, Computer Operator, Retailer, Hot dog stand operator, Taxi driver, Dalai Lama, Gas pump Station Operator, Comanche, Movie Director, Bishop, Grandfather, Construction worker, Scuba instructor, Freight Agent, Fraud investigator, Community Service Manager, Environmentalist, Cardinal, Non Profit organizer, Coroner, Relator, Sister, Psychologist, Reverend, Apache, Interior designer, Criminal investigator, Elder Graduate, Customer, Hair dresser, Janitor, Loan officer, Manufacturer, Chaplain, locomotive engineer, Machinist, Security Guard, Surgeon, Clerk, Optometrist, Marketing research analyst, Photographer, Video editor, Weapons Specialist, Banker, Son, Climate Change Analyst, Diver, Surveyor, Statistician, Neuroscientist, Botanist, Astronomer, Oceanographer, Urban Planner, Inventor, ....

STEP 4: Know thy self. Consciousness/Master Self

Consciousness should be recognizable in behavior more so than a state of mind. A state of mind and being for the individual must be defined in order to produce a uniformed body of "like-minded" individuals. Behaviors, mannerisms, thoughts, actions and deeds determine whether one is in or near that state of mind to be conducive to the conscious community and not detrimental. Not only does this promote unity but helps identify the group as a whole without the need of color, gender, nationalistic and religious affiliation. The "N-Variable" is defined as the mental state of an individual from being a beast (lowest mental level) to Christ (State of oneness with the universe). The N-Variable of an individual as well as a group of society must be minimized.

"The best way to fight an enemy and alien culture is to live your own." ~ Queen Mother Moore

One strives for perfection in his or her own way, in constant awareness of lowering their N-Variable. A curriculum to do this will be designed. As mentioned, the desire to strive for perfection and knowing one will never obtain perfection is not a senseless goal, but ensures the best of that individual. Perfection is not a state of being, condition, or attempting to be better than others, since the standard is Christ. Prophet Muhammad said, he who keeps his duty to Allah is righteous. It is not putting yourself on a pedestal if you are successful at mastering various subjects, behavior and emotions. Striving for perfection is a purpose.

PHASE II Acceptance into civilization of the Black Man and Woman through the Collective.

STEP 5: Individually start to create networks of other likeminded individuals local & abroad.

The Collective will never truly be accepted in this world as equals to the rich and powerful that govern. Because the goals for this world and the next are diametrically opposed, and total separation between not black and white, but wicked and righteous should always remain a viable option in any revolution. However, there should be no need to create a mass exodus, when riding a wave of cultural change through increasing science literacy within the masses. In fact, considering the size of the planet and limited resources, separation, whether from a race or nation, should be discouraged through a renaissance. To create a world, that is the true necessity. In order for this to happen networks, a billion strong, like users on Facebook or Google are needed. This world is built on competition and law of survival, on capitalism, concepts of territories and borders and monetary systems. Create ties and bonds through social media and other forms of communication. Go to the various social gatherings and create the relationships that can last a lifetime. Take an interest and learn to watch news, watch for trends in agricultural, economics, politics, and science. Stereotypes will not change, but they must be rejected. Censor and police yourself on the internet and social media sites. Defense(s) mechanisms, such as secrecy, hidden agendas do not seem to be necessary at this step and possibly the others. The plan is open to the public, solution as clear as its implantation. The "green" life style for the "thug" life, off the grid living for "gangsta" life, etc. Pay attention to neighborhood watches, emergency preparedness teams, fire brigades. These should be studied and refined to not necessarily eliminate needs of gangs and organize crime, but restructure and legitimate their businesses.

Again, the Collective is identified by the individuals that make it up, their actions, appearance, behavior, etc. People are known for their behavior. Looking at Africa as a future home (dual citizenship), requires more than just a correct political and historical interpretation. Every so-called African should reach out in friendship to a so-called African American. Every so called African American, should reach out to an African.

Brain storming and thinking of the limitless business opportunities that exist within the community and abroad is the goal. Action and implantation of those opportunities is the key and starts a revolution. Creating our own type of Facebook website, moving all of our web traffic, advertisement, online social activity and allowing other users to come on for a fee as well to that said website, is the renaissance. This plan is transparent. Make friends in other countries, in other cities and down the street. Thus, a unifying focus should be directed, particularly toward Africa, Middle East, South America, Mexico, Canada, China and Russia and the Diaspora and of course, your very own neighborhood.

Since when was "community service" considered a punishment in a civilized society?

STEP 6: Push for free/sponsored Education - Reading, Writing, Math, Science/K-8th (General knowledge) for the masses.

A new type of Non-profit is needed. Create individual groups locally, crowd funding, non-profits sponsoring home based education programs that compensate for public & private education. These are educational sources deliberately meant to NOT make a profit, rather using a business model similar to that of Kahn Academy. Again, many opportunities already exist and with selected investors we could create new educational opportunities for the masses. Keep in mind, working with existing free tuition institutions like the University of the people.org and Microsoft MITT online, our people can always be rejected, or the entire site shut down. With availability of online training and existing education programs, a centralized information Hub can steer youth to certain schools selected and approved by the Collective. African holistic “educational hubs” can have a small cost for tests, materials, maintenance and software. This cost could also be covered by those sponsoring it and concerned groups of people, thus making it free to those youth that need it but cannot afford it. The goal is to make quality education free and available. The education is not to make a better consumer, career or work force person, but to produce a better nation and a world.

When the tuition is free to the user, there should be conditions to it, allowing individuals to perform community service using the education. The individual that voluntarily accepts these academic programs must understand his world around him/her and know this world will resist accrediting these schools (African Holistic education hubs) for the simple fact they cannot make the money or create the curriculums that typically “buffer” the classes found in the SYSTEM. Thus, what one learns in these schools should be something that can be immediately put to use in the community, basic education, reading, writing, spelling, etc., with a focus on science literacy. General education should be the foundation of on-the-job-training programs and be increased within the community with opportunities of cooperations in third world countries. Become a person that loves to learn, and use it. More so, to teach with the intention of building a world outside of this one we live in. Self-paced, self-taught/home/community schooling must flourish in a revolution, in a renaissance, it must become the norm.

PHASE III True Representation and Unity

STEP 7: Accepted African American Rites of Passage & Exodus possibilities.

In households and the family of the conscious, a second language English, Swahili, Arabic, Spanish, C++, Python, or other computer languages, etc., should be learned. This also ensures the networking possibilities in the various cultures needed to make this change. Granted, we move toward excellence, through education and behavior changes (striving for perfection), not to impress other races, but to become a higher educated people needed to build a nation and ultimately a better world. It is intended that others follow suit, and thus, a guidance responsibility is made.

It is a common opinion in the conscious community, that we (Africa taught the world civilization). It is time to do that again.

Education can never be looked at as simply a way of getting more money or a better career. An existing rite of a Passage system should be identified and sanctioned as "the" rites of passage system for the Collective and Conscious community. There is no need to create another one. Many of us in this world are in a current state pursuing life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This rite of passage is for the purpose of ensuring better leaders, neighbors, and projects. Developing responsibility, trustworthiness, honor, valor and integrity as well as the fortitude to complete the duties of the Collective should be systematic and instilled in education curriculums, and NOT the sole responsibility of parenting. Youth must be taught these. It can be argued that this philosophy equates to simply "get rich or die trying." This school of thought is unacceptable for the Collective.

STEP 8: CSTEMM involvement, Accountability from Clergy. Accountability of political/leadership individuals.

Parents, teachers ( leaders) can start early by presenting microscopes and telescopes, chemistry sets and remote controlled airplanes, drones, etc., instead of foot balls, clothes, shoes and jewelry for youth on special occasions. Slowly move into a science literate environment. Mentors can start leaning toward the stirring of opinions, interests and tastes before high school forming the child. A curriculum is designed. Art, music, poetry, sports, comedians and drama are no longer to be considered professions but if anything, hobbies or secondary careers only to the goals of the renaissance. Madame Marie Curie is an example. Consciousness, Science, Technology, Engineering, Math and Medicine (CSTEMM) and the various fields underneath these categories should be the bulk of the Collective and acceptable careers for the Conscious community. Entrepreneur paths for the masses should focus on franchising opportunities, international and space industry. This may seem to be focused but consider, “consciousness” is a broad term, encompassing a specific way one should see their world, social structure, politics, mental and spiritual relationships and other necessities for a proper civilization. A football player that is a doctor, a comedian that is an Engineer, a dancer who is a business man is what the Collective is asking for. It is a good revolutionary strategy to always go against the stereotype. To be clear, the Collective and Conscious community are not the same.

In many cases, the question must be asked....Do our leaders fail us or do we fail the leaders? What can YOU do?

Clergy or any spiritual leaders play a special role in the Collective. For the Collective, their theology must be tainted with scientific research and shrouded in reality. History shows that people have made far greater sacrifices than what is suggested here and accomplished greater things. Keep in mind, to stand out from this world is not only a privilege in most of the major religions but a requirement. But to live a life similar to that of a monk or nun is not a requirement nor advocated by the Collective. It is a given. For the Conscious community, it is expected. This is a concept not new, and not of this world as Christ, Muhammad, Buddha, and others have taught. Opposition is expected. Although the idea of having the masses of individuals following the same theology is highly unlikely and not necessary, living standards to be accurately described as “in comfort”, not luxury, is the acceptable criterion for the Collective. If one is in a religion that cannot change their condition, especially when its leaders of said religion are living above the standard of comfort, the Collective will assist in providing the pathway for those masses. Ideally, leading by example will open a clear path to success for all religious belief. But to live in poverty, and believe you are “blessed” must remain in this fading world.

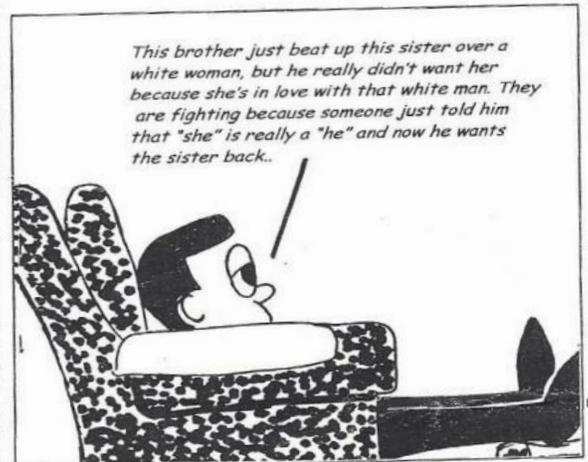

As science literacy and education becomes abundant, the network of unifying minds, business, and ventures begins to grow, and the earth friendly, off the grid technology becomes more viable, religious institutions within the Conscious community cannot be “business as usual.” Perhaps as fanciful as the Vulcan characters of Star Trek are to humans from Earth, a clearly different, morally refined, exceptionally talented and cultured norm can flourish. The Collective must stand out to lead the Conscious Community. The Conscious community must lead the masses. The standard is indeed greater for those in these positions and rightly so. A curriculum is designed. The Online communications hub that will pull selected groups of individuals to become the foundation of the Collective think tank. A proper vetting process for those put in leadership positions should be required. To put anyone in front of the masses, and conscious community is dangerous and detrimental to the objectives of the Collective and conscious community. Setting a criterion will ultimately produce the families needed for the future. Becoming a people known for its scientific endeavors, its peaceful intentions, its global helping hand and constant pursuit of wisdom and THE God should sound familiar to any existing religion if not simply a worthy practice today.

Watchin' The Times

By: MARCUS ZX BRANCH

"We live in a culture of destructive transparency."

~ Tina Brown

Strategies are conceived. A curriculum is designed. Implementation must be desired by a people.

(Thought, plan, unity and action) We are the real maze runners.

PHASE IV Connecting like minds and Unity

Civilization class within communities (self/family/community/world)

STEP 9: As the cohesion process begins, also embrace other cultures that accept the Collective.

For the Collective, the basics of life/social skills and behavioral learning, must be established and maintained as it grows disconnected from these worlds of educational, political and social systems. Many subjects from non Afro-centric and generic knowledge, proper restaurant etiquette and dating practices to simply not using the N-word in conversation should change within the conscious community. This will never be taught in schools today and is up to the influence of the Collective to take these steps. Positive changes in music and entertainment are the indications of change and the evidence that the plan is taking hold.

STEP 10: Begin to establish Men's Professional & Home Training systems.

A curriculum is designed. Language, dress, social norms, genetic tracing of family history would be addressed through these system schools. Off grid/new world concepts and theories, bartering, micro economics, conflict resolution skills, intro to Swahili, Arabic, marriage/ husband/ wife relationships, child rearing should be redefined and curriculums established. Our best minds in the Collective would create this curriculum. Concepts of arranged marriages, new dating customs and rituals should be established. Father roles, trade & skill handy man level learning/correction with well research based African centric curriculum must be taught. Curriculums are created and published on Bean Soup Science Online to benefit the Conscious community as a whole.

STEP 11: Begin to establish Women's Professional & Home Training systems.

A curriculum is designed. Language, dress, social norms, genetic tracing of family history would be addressed through these system schools. Oprah Winfrey schools are an excellent start of this idea. Also included in this education is political strategy, off grid power concepts and theories, bartering, micro-economics, conflict resolution skills, Swahili, Arabic and/or Spanish. Our best minds in the Collective would create this curriculum and could be presented by the Bean Soup Science Online. Health & cooking concepts as well as arranged marriages, new dating customs and rituals can be established. Home training, child rearing learning/correction is the focus and through a researched based African centric curriculum. Curriculums are created and published on Bean Soup Science Online and Core Novus Academy.

STEP 12: Become a part of and represent the Conscious Community.

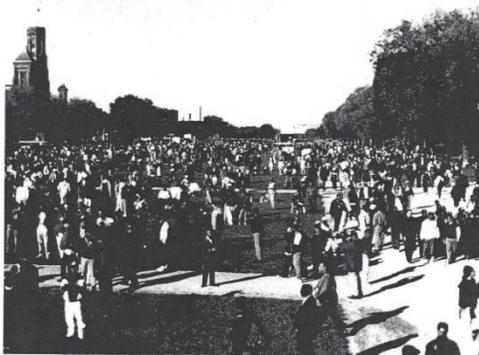

Scientific socialism on a massive scale controlled by African people in the form of a science literacy renaissance is not only a mouth full, it's a tremendous challenge. It is experimental in nature but can be set to controlled theories and formulations agreed upon in the proper think tanks. Collectivism as a society may or may not be a good idea. There is no research on the massive scale among the 2/3 of the population, it is intended to effect. Its success depends entirely on the group of individuals that make up the spear head of the renaissance, even though it is meant for all. The Conscious community cannot sit on face book, kicking the street knowledge, "sciencing" about how black people are cyphering but they the black community, economics and social any revolution. This plan pathway that is "renaissance" of is no need of black spy or intelligence no military of any no one leader and person can become concept or taking this is true unity. The Collective's purpose is for the resurrection of the people within the Conscious community and to bring about their change so that they can correctly change others (all). What better revolution is there to have?

One of the main goals keep unity growing Conscious community, and networks, verifying businesses. When of themselves routinely take on the when speaking of them

Because there have been several attempts to create New World Orders throughout history, with different agendas behind them, it is not surprising, that any "new world order" concept would be met with reluctance by the masses. They, particularly the poor, have been historically victimized by utopian ideas instead of

of the Collective is to fluidly throughout the establishing channels information and millions no longer think individually and plural pronoun, "We" selves, (like a Pope), liberated by them and thus, change is repugnant to certain groups, particularly to third world and indigenous people, and of course to those that are enjoying the luxuries in life, the wealthy in the world. Without the SYSTEM's consent, groups are trained to fear a new world order type ideas, through religious teachings, gentrification maneuvering and/or nationalistic fervor they can remain indefinitely in their allocated social systems. This is possibly why it is called the "establishment." It requires maintenance. "Maintainers" should be identified to and if necessary, their power stripped from them to change. Change then, is a constant fight, fluid in nature. To stand for the masses is one thing. To stand for the masses and go against the SYSTEM is another. The world has witnessed the attempt of this by a conscious Original man, President Barack Obama. The rejection of his leadership, by those powers that be, of his policies and him personally, said three things to humanity. First, it identified the maintainers of the SYSTEM. Second, it revealed that the problem goes beyond black and white, democrat, republican, rich, poor and other dichotomy frictions, nonpolitically correct arguments, unpopular or popular agendas, etc. Three, his presidency gave us an example of the power of the SYSTEM and its sway over the population. Many African Americans, Hispanics, women, Americans and Africans in general, were led to believe this president was against them, ruining the country, corrupt, etc. The strategy of the establishment (the Maintainers) and the SYSTEM is control. They will stoop to any means to do so. If a sitting president, the highest elected official of the people, cannot change the SYSTEM for the better, then the political system of that nation is devalued and the people themselves need to change.

As a renaissance there will be no need to stop a government, to overthrow it or to fight it. The Conscious Community simply needs to make it obsolete in their lives.

Decrease its size and power of the SYSTEM while acknowledging its government's rule of law, elected officials, taxes, and needs. Changing them using the legal political channels allotted should be routine BUT continue to build your own! The SYSTEM is reinforced with lifestyle techniques of conformity. With all forms of music and sports entertainment, secular and pagan holidays, politics and nationalism minimized as priorities in life, the Conscious community and the Collective can cooperate and guide with less difficulty and more exuberance. Unity becomes paramount in this aspect. Funneling the time, money and necessary think tanks, and through counseling, networking, conflict resolution and mediation, the channels and relationships can be established for unity, even into other cultures, communities and races to create the world in which we all desire. This has already begun and can be continued expeditiously. At this phase, the New Economic Middle Passage can occur.

PHASE V: Goal and Purpose

Establishing protocols for existing African/

African American Networking groups/Black Think Tanks

Step13: There is no need to establish a new organization, join an existing group

Step 13. Direct strategies and tactics for focusing on activating solutions already known and creating new ones for a true connection to the continent of Africa are needed. Many of our leaders have done this. From the Collective view, everything needed should be done with minimal opportunity to make large amounts of money and if at all possible, free to the masses. This is where our people typically fail and/or are corrupted, making the entire population fall back into the SYSTEM and order of things in the world, leaving a few, dictators, drug cartels or warlords to gain. The estates, properties, and work of Elijah Muhammad and Marcus Garvey are excellent examples of attempts, but with no longevity. It is said, the Illuminati was create in mysticism and occultism with realistic goals and directives. This renaissance has no secret agenda, no room for corruption. Plans and actions will be deliberate, transparent, and easily recognizable as beneficial to the world no matter what race, creed or color. Through mutual benefit, wealth is obtained.

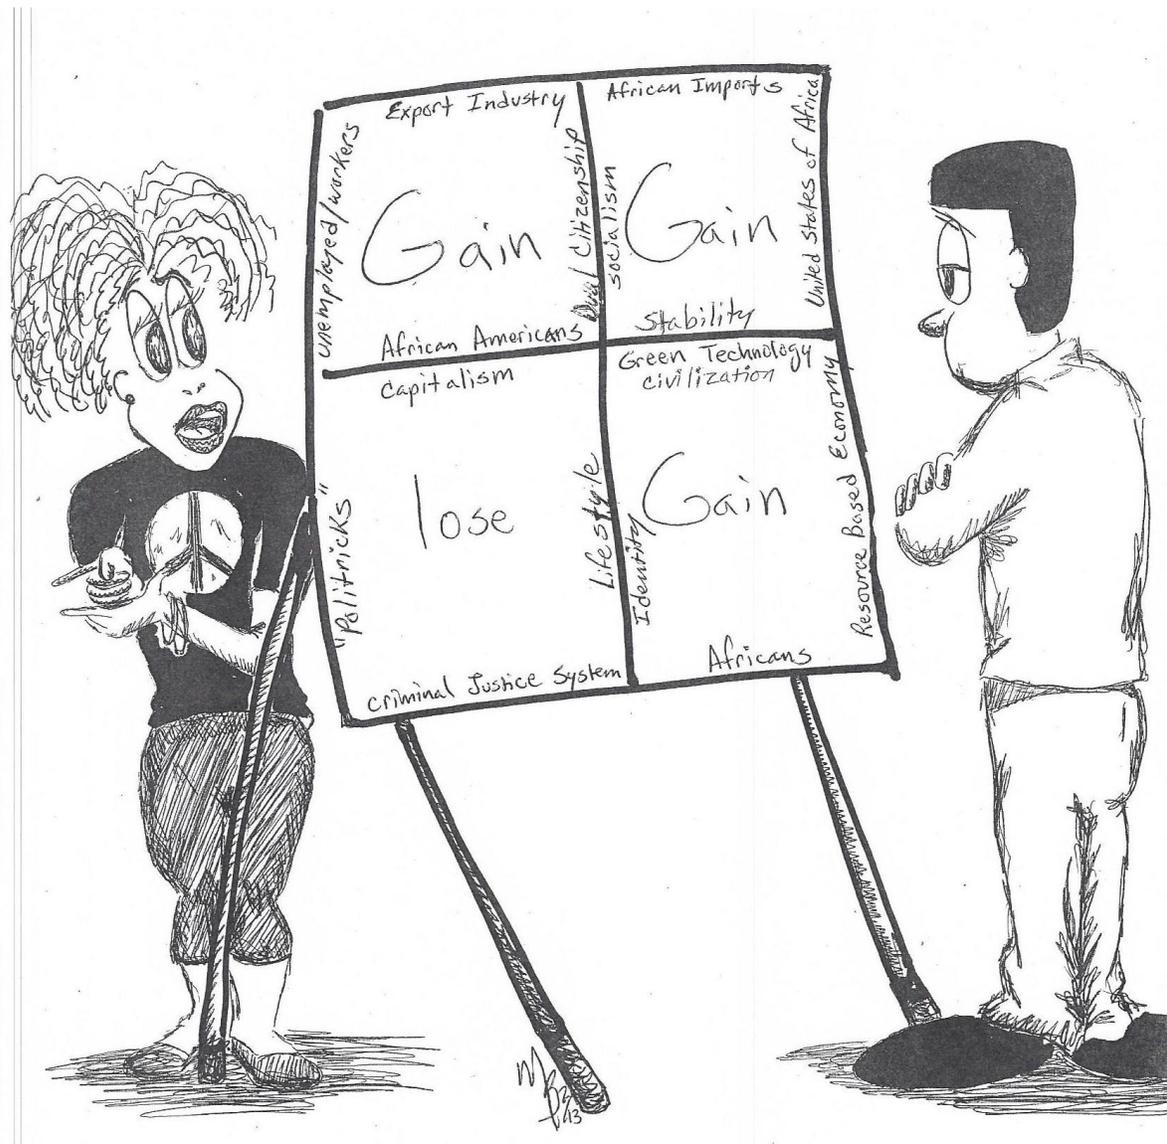

The Collective was meant to be one of billions and as the character Spock would suggest..."the needs of the many outweigh the needs of the few."

Step 14: Establish protocols for existing Global Networking groups/ World Think Tanks to connect groups.

Strategies and tactics for how the rest of the world can help and the benefits of helping should be presented. In the past, The Conscious Community has felt that allowing "outsiders" into organizations could be a death blow. The Collective will have no "outsiders." Again, it should be made clear that these steps are an attempt to resurrect, aim and push 2/3's of the planet's population, particularly original people of the planet at the fore front as examples to better department. Solutions that require little or no funds, interracially promoted, interclass sponsored, interreligious groups establish agreements beneficial to both or all parties at this level are stressed.

PHASE VI: Actual Nation Building.

Reparations Package submitted to United States of America from African Americans

STEP: 15 Agree to a massive business project to spurt the growth of the Collective, not a monetary individual compensation.

Monetary reparations given to the children of people held as former slaves would be catastrophically bad for them. In reality, they would simply not know what to do with it, thus it would re-circulate out of their hands in a matter of months. This does not negate the responsibility of America paying reparations to those individuals in some form. The reparation should come in the form of a massive project. Perhaps through a system of guaranteed-maximum price bidding, they receive a project funded by America. One would argue that giving more “work” to a group of people, is not reparations. The reparation package requested should not be individually based but rather would be rewarded to those considered to be the descendants of people held as slaves and a designated organization representing them selected to coordinate those reparations. The reparations will have an indirect impact, ultimately serving all mankind with the distinct addendum of allowing the conscious community to select the reparation or a massive project.

With reparations abandoned, the mentality of the nation is clear and separation, dual citizenship, even a total exodus can be presented on the table to the various think tanks of the Collective.

These same massive project examples are always needed in third world countries and could be funded by anyone of the many countries of Africa, China, Saudi Arabia, Brazil, Cuba and so forth. This is the way of the Collective. Thus, the change from a revolution to renaissance must grow in industry. What are a people that do not produce, but consumers? Thus, this dichotomy solution is not based on quid pro quo relationship. In a sense, it has to be a governing part of the reparations package. It will have to be made beneficial to America as well as the Planet. Either way, we must start to build.

STEP: 16 African/African American Dual Citizenship Program/Mentor/Business/Community Initiatives.

Strategic plans to create a new middle passage exodus of opportunity and large scale business connections exclusively between African and African Americans are needed. Accountability of businesses and business practices is stressed. The mentality of “if the law allows it” and profit is no longer business. What is good for people & planet in business, not the accumulation of wealth becomes priority in the curriculums and training.

STEP: 17 Entrepreneurial/Technical School & Training Initiatives.

Strategies and tactics directed specifically to African American/African start-ups and existing franchises and companies, monetary co-ops and financial responsibilities distributed out to selected individuals groups, and organizations are needed. Targeted financial institutions & banks given the duty of overseeing money flow. Specializations in Urban development, recirculation of dollars within a community, micro loans and crowd funding initiatives, and a push for scientific socialism principles and regulations, STEM education and training, green technology/living are necessary. Space exploration, asteroid/moon mining, recycling and nation building will be emphasized.

STEP: 18 Establish World African Bank & Micro Banking System.

Grouped investors should come together with their collateral from initial investments. “Riba” loans for major productions (Products) & projects (Services) of African businesses should be considered first. Flat 10% currency recirculation from conscious community for three years (transparent tax system) should be considered. Starting at the community banking level, one NFL football team can raised the capital to start a bank, roughly 12-20 million according to Huffington Post. With the entire conscious community giving 10% of everything they make, and also, transferring their funds and using targeted banks, it should be a matter of years and not decades for said bank to be able to compete with World bank of today and perform the financial duties. Again, this is concentrated focused recirculation of monetary funds within targeted business projects and selected communities by the majority of the Collective. Investments in computer science and neuroscience become priority. Regulation Application processes can be optional. Study the history of currency from Mexico. Since the focus of recirculation of monies within the community is the primary focus, whether an “application” is processed and accepted is inconsequential. Economists will flat out reject this concept. Keep in mind, the condition of this world and its monetary systems. Change must occur. To produce our “own” form of currency is one thing. To start moving toward a new type of economy is another. A curriculum is designed.

Possibilities of an independent currency (not following the dollar). A universal treasured bitcoin type system for a unified African currency? A curriculum is designed.

STEP 19: Establish a Second Great Black Wall Street.

It is estimated 1 trillion dollars come in and leave the black community in a year. The Second Great Black Wall Street, (SGBWS) named in memory of the first is a goal of the Collective as well as the Conscious community. Unlike the first, this financial system should uplift and strengthen something other than the dollar slowly weaning itself from the dollar and those industries totally dependent on the SYSTEM, such as the military industrial complex. More so, experiments in bartering economies occur at this level. Existing African leadership will consider African Americans as invaders like any other foreigner unless adequate forms of rewards (not bribes) are given. Rewards, such as armies of freshly graduated students, scientists and engineers creating “scientist and engineer without borders” type associations with African nations are negotiated. Agricultural and green technology possibilities are to be defined and negotiated by the bank(s) and financial institutions that would consist within the SGBWS. Establishment of Airport/shipping Cargo Industry is primary for the SGBWS. The concept of a United States of Africa will be made attractive to those in power today or in near future at this level when a new middle passage should be established.

“The future rewards those who press on. I don't have time to feel sorry for myself. I don't have time to complain. I'm going to press on.”

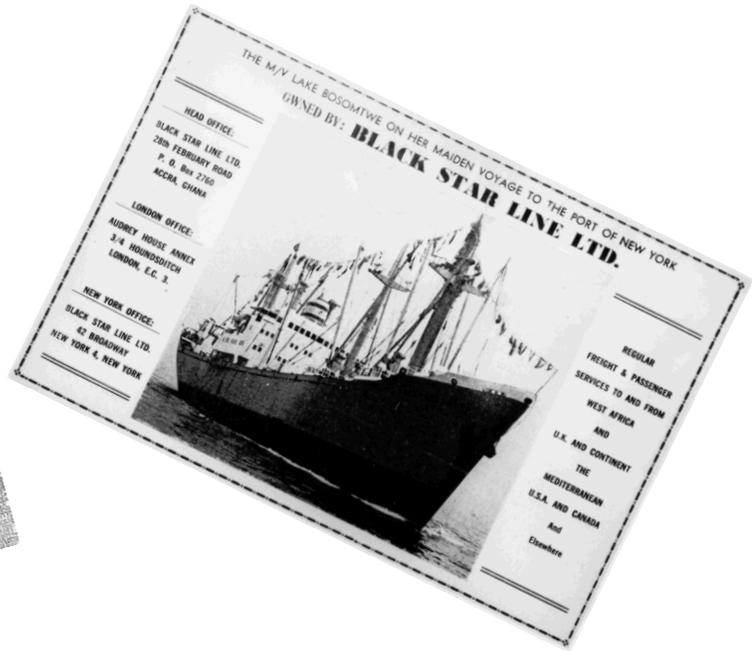

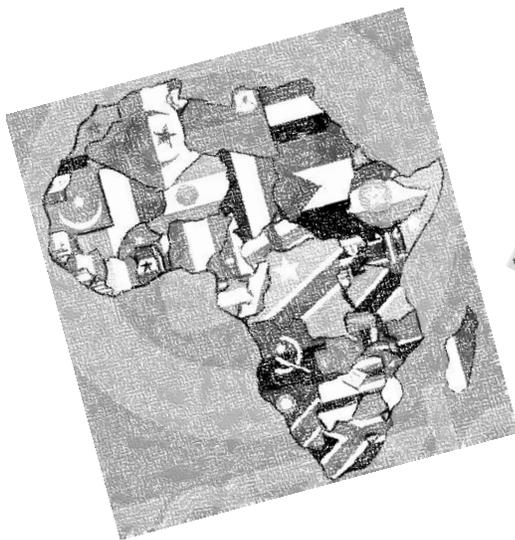

~ President Barack Hussein Obama

When Detroit was in trouble (bankrupt) and property up for sale.... Where were we as a Conscious community?? Will we be ready for the next opportunity?

STEP 20: Embrace and Ratify a United States of Africa Concept.

SGBWS responsibilities are ultimately delegated through the Conscious community. As a job producer, and with connections established abroad, the collective talents our educated youth. A SGBWS council is created to harness the capabilities of SGBWS multiple businesses, investors, entrepreneurs, etc. A Flat 25% currency recirculation to community system (transparent tax system) should establish in the SGBWS business community. Unlike taxes today to keep governments functioning, these taxes would go directly to effecting trade policies, environmental friendly manufacturing, bio-technology laws, changing and enforcing deforestation laws, Medical & life skill training for both populations. The majority, if not all business ventures, ensure the first two foundations of Maslow's pyramid. (Physiological needs and safety needs). Scientific Socialism becomes foundational to laws and rights, governing business practices. The push for free homes, food, water, electricity, medical, starts here. We have missed so many opportunities before...because of lack of unity and organization.

STEP 21: African Health Organization and Court of the Collective.

Revamping, initializing and implementing a new form of control for relief funds & supplies entering the continent become a priority. Internal research and disease control becomes a priority.

STEP 22: Walinzi African Imperial Guard (Security force), Court of Elders Citizen. System (Judicial System)

Not an army, air force or marines but, equipped militia. Largest "Black water" type, peace keeping force and a Council of Elders to provide a true Citizen Justice System. Responsibilities include possible offensive measures against rogue nations within the continent; assist in breaking down territories, tribal regions, enforcing the judgments of the Court of the Elders. They should oversee missionaries and foreign conglomerates exodus from the continent. This step may not be needed as much and is contingent upon the reaction of the world.

COINTELPRO
Excerpts from the U.S. Senate's Report on
THE FBI'S COVERT ACTION PROGRAM TO DESTROY
THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY

INTRODUCTION

In August 1967, the FBI initiated a covert action program—COINTELPRO—to disrupt and “neutralize” organizations which the Bureau characterized as “Black Nationalist Hate Groups.”<sup>1</sup> The FBI memorandum expanding the program described its goals as:

1. Prevent a coalition of militant black nationalist groups. . . .
2. Prevent the rise of a messiah who could unify and electrify the militant nationalist movement . . . Martin Luther King, Stokely Carmichael and Elijah Muhammad all aspire to this position. . . .
3. Prevent violence on the part of black nationalist groups. . . .
4. Prevent militant black nationalist groups and leaders from gaining respectability by discrediting them. . . .
5. . . . prevent the long-range growth of militant black nationalist organizations, especially among youth.”<sup>2</sup>

The targets of this nationwide program to disrupt “militant black nationalist organizations” included groups such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), and the Nation of Islam (NOI). It was expressly directed against such leaders as Martin Luther King, Jr., Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown, Maxwell Stanford, and Elijah Muhammad.

The Black Panther Party (BPP) was not among the original “Black Nationalist” targets. In September 1968, however, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover described the Panthers as:

“the greatest threat to the internal security of the country. “Schooled in the Marxist-Leninist ideology and the teaching of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung, its members have perpetrated numerous assaults on police officers and have engaged in violent confrontations with police throughout the country. Leaders and representatives of the Black Panther Party travel extensively all over the United States preaching their gospel of hate and violence not only to ghetto residents,

The supreme art of war is to subdue the enemy without fighting. ~ Sun Tzu

STEP 23: United States of Africa Formalized and Accepted By Existing African States and the World.

Political leaders, experts and advisors seek the formalization & creation of this process. A consolidation of governmental powers whose only responsibility is to meet the benchmarks represented to them by the Collective and existing nations for the improvement of the entire continent and the masses of people (democratically represented).

STEP 24: World Community Militia/Police/Disaster Response System.

It should be stressed, by this time and at this step, missionary organizations within the continent of Africa, safaris, poaching, illegal exports, drugs, sex slaves, warlords and military weapons sales, have no place in a New Africa. Their ability to create a profit is dissolved. A curriculum is designed. Disasters, Plague, regional/tribal conflicts, can end with strokes of pens if the foundation of unity safety and security is restored. Response teams are formed, sister organizations of UN, with objectives to keep peace, protection of property, freeing up or delivering monies, medicine, building supplies or people for their destinations. Emergency medical relief, enforcement of banishment laws, protection of supplies and disaster relief is a must!

STEP 25: Move to Accept One Language as THE African National Language.

Arabic, English, Spanish, Chinese or totally new language for unification and identity purposes should be established.

STEP 26: Reinforcement to Solidify or Redefined Society Norms. Move away from the SYSTEM.

It is suggested that science becomes the dominant in cultural aspect of the Conscious, moving away from institutionalize religions, music, sports, games. Freedom of religion is protected but not promoted as a business profit or nonprofit ventures, nor is it permitted if in conflict with the 42 declarations of Maat.

Society, culture, a people become recognizable by production, invention, commercialization and business based in bartering possibilities and "riba" theories are emphasized. Massive Archive with true black history, artifacts, and donated materials begin at this step. This would be similar to lifeboat foundation, created in structures that could withstand catastrophic events and activities.

STEP 27: Restore A Library of Alexandria in Africa.

It is the duty of the Collective to give back to the entire world. The Educational Hubs mentioned earlier form the Data Base and back bone for this library. It is Cloud based, and a computer/mental link systems to individuals in the Collective and Conscious community. The Scientific renaissance is at its peak. Research begins in decoded neurofeedback technologies (Matrix Learning). Education school/College systems rely heavily upon "The movie Matrix" type technology that promotes instant information education uploads.

From this to this...

To this...

...“ I know Kung Fu.”

STEP 28: Green Initiative/packages off grid technology & Industry.

This is already happening as many of the listed bench marks are consolidated here. Africa and our African American communities have the perfect opportunity to skip over a high polluting industrial age technologies and start on a good foot with green. Earth-friendly technology & green companies that target populations in Africa should be assessed and emphasized.

STEP 29: Aquaponics/Community garden Initiative (Sustainable)

Emphasis on off the grid technology would be reinforced. Africans do not want to grow their own food, they look at America with a McDonalds and Burger king on every corner and they desire that lifestyle...China has mastered the ability to have fast food, healthy and cheap and not food cheap, plentiful and deadly. Bioengineering and GMO foods should be considered in the various regions of the world that are in need.

STEP 30: Food & water Initiative Planet farming and H2O restoration initiatives.

We can name Italian, Chinese, American and Korean restaurants chains, ...why are there no African chains of super markets across the world? This begins in step 11 and grows here at this level. Investors and owners should become uniform with all import, export operations on the coasts of Africa. Whatever goes in and out of the continent should be regulated in this super market chain to prevent price wars, employee strife and bad business practices. The existing tax regulations that vary from country to country should be centralized and uniform.

the Future of Food

The Plant Transformation Facility at the University of California, Davis, has been the scene of more than 15,000 "transgenic events," which is the term molecular biologists use when they blast DNA from one life form into another. In room 192 of Robbins Hall, a brick building not far from the student union, thousands of microscopic plantlets grow in Petri dishes bathed in pink and fluorescent blue light.

Here, molecular biologists can mix what were previously sexually incompatible species together using a gas-pump-like tool called the Helium Particle Delivery System. Using bullets (literally) made out of gold, they fire genes from one species into another in a bombardment chamber. The Davis lab has given birth to grapes spiked with jellyfish, tomatoes spiked with carp, transgenic squash, transgenic carrots, transgenic tomatoes.

Another important site in genetic engineering history, an innocuous office building about a ten-minute drive from Robbins Hall, is the birthplace of the most audacious plant in the history of high-tech plants. Among biotech people and anti-biotech people, this plant, a tomato, needs no introduction. The so-called Flavr Savr was supposed to be the game changer—longer shelf life, better yield, better taste. Calgene, the company that created the Flavr Savr, claimed it could bring "backyard flavor" to the supermarket tomato.

Achieving "backyard flavor" in an industrial-scale, California-grown tomato has long been one of the holy grails of the $4 billion-plus tomato industry. During the pre-tomato launch hype-a-thon, the president of Calgene claimed that genetic engineering could not only bring us the tomato of our childhood dreams, but also remake the taste of the tomato, tailored to our every desire: "Eventually we're going to design acidic tomatoes for the New Jersey palate and sweet tomatoes for the Chicago palate."

The Flavr Savr turned out to be the Edsel of the produce world, a spectacular failure not just for Calgene, but for the whole biotech industry. This purportedly longer-shelf-life tomato became the lightning rod for much of the anti-genetically modified organism (GMO) movement. People learned about other transgenic crops—a potato with a chicken gene, tobacco with a firefly gene, and, perhaps most notoriously, a tomato with an Arctic flounder gene, which provided an image for a Greenpeace anti-GMO campaign. Nongovernmental organizations cried foul. Consumers were alarmed. It was an op-ed about the Flavr Savr where the term Frankenfood first appeared. As for the tomato's taste, most reports said that, far from achieving backyard flavor, it was not that great.

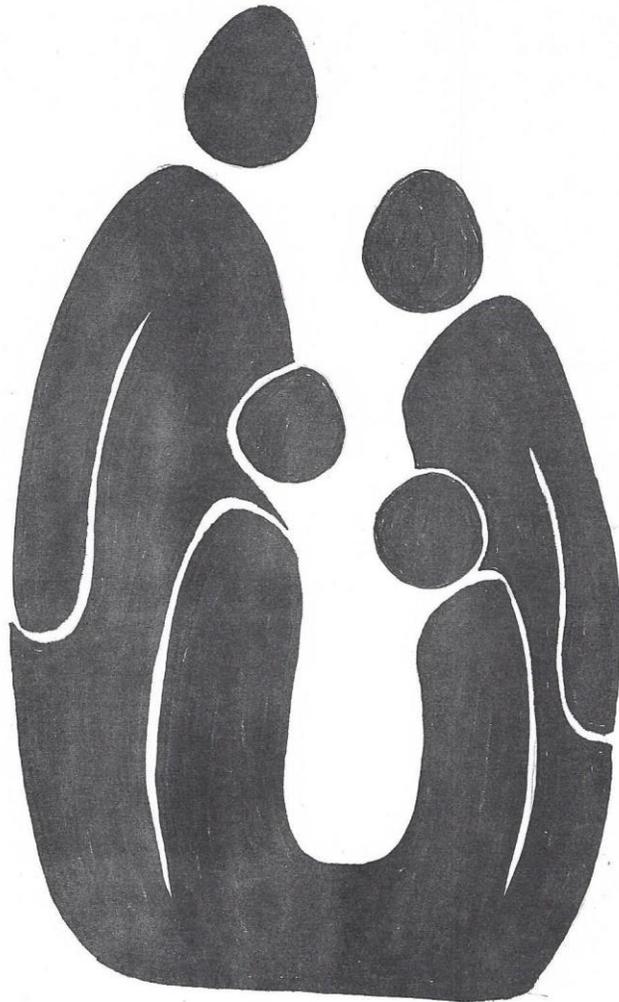

By 1997, supermarkets stopped stocking the bioengineered tomato. The Flavr Savr was a financial disaster for Calgene.

But that was almost fifteen years ago.

One fall day, across campus from the Helium Particle Delivery System, I went to visit Kent Bradford, the director of UC Davis's Seed Biotechnology Center and presumably among the best-positioned people at Davis to answer my burning question: Whatever happened after the Flavr Savr?

The Culinary Potential of Frankenfood

Genetic engineering obviously didn't stop with the Flavr Savr debacle; the use of GMOs has exploded. Many genetically engineered foods can be found throughout our food supply. Genetically modified soybeans and canola dominate the market, which means that most processed food—everything from your spaghetti to your Snickers bar—has GM ingredients. More than 90% of American cotton and 80% of corn crops come from GM seed. All of these crops, though, are what are called "commodity crops." They're not what you pick up at your local greengrocer. They're industrial crops, secondary ingredients. Not what interested me. What I wanted to know is what

STEP 31: Boom in African Tourism, Technology, Business and Culture.

Cruise liners, retreats and resorts are emphasized. Dubai is an example. Animals and lands are not only protected, but an intractable part of the economy. World Recycling Centers are constructed to rid the planet of dumping and landfills. Regulation and/or protection of all mineral resources and exports on the continent are emphasized. Research begins on the extraction technologies for some of the same materials found in low orbiting asteroids and moon materials. Bartering or credit/scientific socialist/quasi-capitalistic economy begins. Introduce a new way of life, style, fashion, etc. Technology is the key to having a clean world, a fair society with justice, recyclable, reusable technologies, ordered, balanced, and a harmonized civilization. A Continent can be an example for the world. Designers like that of the Venus Project and others should be considered.

STEP 32: Transhumanist Future Defined, Accepted and Considered as a Part of the Culture.

Wealth & power measures success in this world. But in a world of empowered and moved by science literacy, accomplishments and vision will be the measure of wealth and power, while success can be based on the number of individuals you effect in a positive manner. Once systems are in place to cloth, feed, and shelter (the basics) through off the grid theories and practices, the ability to think as civilized, responsible people should become easier. Harriet Tubman once said, "I freed a thousand slaves. I would have freed a thousand more if they only knew they were slaves." The dissemination of knowledge is imperative to any revolution. The acceptance and application of that knowledge is the renaissance.

A first test of a new people, new freedoms & new economy systems is what they produce. Massive projects were emphasized before. If the product is a better people, themselves, the value of those people becomes immeasurable. If the product is something else, the product should be constructed by the entire world. However, it should be managed and controlled with exclusive bids for materials, parts and labor and awarded to a combination of collective African American organizations and African companies working together. Arabs creating the city of Dubai & the international space station are examples.

Even Jesus was a carpenter. Build people, for self and the entire planet.

STEP 33: The Terran Galactic Space Agency (TGSA)

Today, most can board a plane and fly to a desired destination with relative ease. The requirements of a trip are roughly a plane, fuel and a pilot(s). Rarely do people stop and think of the necessary training, science and aeronautics that go into making a simple trip by moving tons of metal, glass, plastic, and wires through air. It takes special training to be a pilot of that plane. Imagine a society where all, including passengers are trained to be a pilot, whether they have an opportunity to actually fly a plane or not. One may consider this “information overload”, unnecessary or, perhaps even impractical. But yet, one can agree that the exclusive power of the pilot, his/her knowledge, gives them an advantage over others which is determining whether anyone goes on a plane trip or not. In other words, as scripture so eloquently puts it, “My people are destroyed by the lack knowledge.” In order for this to change, what we learn must become relevant in our lives.

Consider the course of possibly the future through only the great Imagine the control of that understood, and

From fire, to the wheel, atomic bomb, the result one that achieves, controls the knowledge certain power.

If you continue into the human achievements, equilibrium, Moon life, human finding alien life, (whether millions and microscopic or talking and breathing), to traveling beyond light speed, contact with intelligent off world beings, and perhaps the full and complete understanding of the human mind...one can clearly see the need to guide, if not control, these achievements become a priority in a renaissance. Each past and expected human achievement requires significant time, effort, thought with a variety of predictable and unpredictable consequences. Looking at the totality of human achievements, past, present, and future, one can see they can utterly save human life while others can bring us to the brink of annihilation. The goal of guiding as oppose to controlling these achievements become a clear tactic for the Collective in order to produce a better world.

human history and a scope of viewing achievements. the first person used fire.

the gun, flight, the is the same... the understands, first, wields a future of possible ....people/planet life on another planet, of years old, fossilized

One of the greatest achievements of humanity will be to permanently venture into space. There is an immediate reward for financial ventures in space as well as a long term one. Also, there is a long term but lucrative opportunity when it comes to deep space travel (to Kuiper belt and beyond). A Industry dichotomy will occur and thus, a curriculum is designed. To escape a planet's gravity is a expensive and dangerous phase of any spacecraft. Entry and reentry phases of space travel must be mastered. Business opportunities in space industry grow beyond monetary values to socialist survival concept, space faring society's adaptability can drive new types of economies for a new and bold people. Today and in the near future, low orbit space flight will become routine as traveling on cruise ships or air craft carriers. Space ports, cargo and bays, container freight stations, orbital fleeting, containerization, etc., will be created. Picture football field sized building platforms with several space gantry crane operators are while robotic holsters scurry about is the future. Consequently, there would be a need for a whole support space industry that is required before making long journeys in the cosmos. Consider the advance sciences needed. Computers, orbital aeronautical mechanics, lift off and orbital reentry sciences, weather sciences, electronics, robotics, and the list goes on. But most of these, if not all, fall into "nation building" careers.

Africa, free of human discourse, goal. To pursue technology and to improve on the the planet. What can we make to traveling from star to planet? Humans are built to remain in a environment of temperatures, climate, and conditions. Specializing in Orbital debris collection, Moon and asteroid mining, and becoming the leaders in material sources and design for world ventures spacecraft, satellite electronics and deep space technology is the first phase to hone that environmental science needed for longer trips. Humans are in need of a variety of a certain amount of chemicals and elements to survive. Water, food, air, even microorganisms that are only found on this planet and not carried with interstellar travelers, would make deep space travel a foolish endeavor. But in order to even get anywhere, Europa, Mars, Saturn, etc. humans need to learn to live together, share, reuse resources, and maintain order and cohesion amongst their populations here. To simply live in space is not the objective. But the key is to become a spacefaring society is to have a point A to point B destination.

In 2015, there is a lot of excitement in the science world. Kepler 452b, the closest Earth like planet is discovered. The probability of finding an exoplanet or habitable planet, nearly identical to Earth's is mathematically inevitable. The Kepler telescope is finding potential targets weekly. A goal of the Collective is to prepare humanity for that journey to that planet that will eventually be found. Deep space travel however, currently has many problems and is still not a reality. Problems like time dilation, where one year of space flight equals 220 years here on the planet, may need a new type of math to solve. There is no coming back to family and friends, making it not impossible, but problematic and undesirable to say the least. The Conscious community is not aware that there are those of us working on solutions now, but there is a Mexican Physicist Miguel Alcubierre and African American Astronaut Dr. Mae Jemison and they are examples of leaders the research to get us to interstellar destinations. Deep space travel is humanity's destiny. It is not a matter of if, but when. On the surface it appears to be an option, and even possible to some. To solve it becomes our purpose.

Breaking the sound barrier, going to the moon, people travelling over 45 miles an hour in automobiles and trains was once thought to be impossible. Although the universe seems mysterious and dangerous, elements for oxygen and water are abundant within the cosmos. Minerals and metals that can be mined in vast quantities even in low orbital asteroids between our planet and moon are plentiful. It is as if a stage has been set to perform this purpose.

Also, how common in the universe are other Earths? The math tells us millions in our galaxy alone. All of humanity can eventually venture out toward the cosmos. How we go is optional. Should we even consider only star ships as a viable way of traveling through the vast time and space in between the stars especially with the restraint of light speed? Can our engineering allow us to manipulate existing worm holes? Or is a “designer math” needed to produce “Star gates” technologies to manipulate time and space itself?

When alien life is considered, the Drake equation is applied to this goal, or when 6EQUJ5, the “Wow” signal from space that suggests a technical civilization has been found is confirmed, deep space travel becomes even more of a priority for humanity. Although not a lucrative business at this time, searching for life is important and crucial for the Conscious community. With an off world intelligence discovered and confirmed, there comes the best argument for The Creator and to understand his creation thus the value of space exploration will flourish.

From Revolution to Renaissance Argument

History shows black people as a people in constant battle. Yet, like a wife in an abusive marriage, we want to stay and hope for things to get better. From a revolutionary perspective amazingly, the goal has been a battle for simply being seen as human to being seen as an equal in society. These debased rewards, which have yet to be obtained fully, cannot be the goal for the Collective. The revolution has typically been evolving to fighting for human rights globally. But because there is actual resistance to deny others of their human rights, it forces one human group to have another human “enemy” group, an oppressor, white man, neocons, the 1 percent, the MAN, Westerners, Christians, Jews, Muslims, the poor, the rich, etc. At various points in history, strategies were formed involving and pointing to separation, building a nation of our own and doing for self as THE solution or the crucial part. America, in the 1960’s, the black man and woman believed in black power, separation or equal rights integration, genuine cover ups & totally fake conspiracy theories about government, CIA, FBI and the many Presidents of the past. Many still do but the majority of African American attitudes have shifted to challenging and resisting being a “modern day slave,” and not necessarily forcing a change, but waiting for change.

African Americans are at a point when a black youth gets shot by a police man in curious circumstances or a Ebola outbreak occurs in Africa, with knee jerk speed we assumed the worse and seek a “human enemy” to blame & accuse, instead of researching, unifying, and coming up with solutions that directly and indirectly affect them all. This mentality must not only change but their objectives and goals for the future as well.

New strategies are required to move from a revolution to a renaissance. Although many may consider it weakening their specific movements, taking the eye off the main prize, or maybe a “watered down” revolution, I submit to you that this renaissance has the same goal as the revolution, but replacing hatred, reactionary actions and confusion, disunity and violence. This is a new way to fight an identified SYSTEM, to degrade it and making it inconsequential to our future through measurable bench marks. No matter what was done in the past, the future is in need of building. One should never forget the past, and it is an individual choice to forgive, but all must look toward a future.

It starts with you. To equate the belief in God and this world's institutional religion(s) is assumed to be the spiritual problem for the individual. For society as a whole, if this world has lost the knowledge of God, how difficult would it be for someone of devout faith to admit this? How would theologians of the major religions to save face? For the masses to acknowledge it would decrease their profits, their attendance and the future of their divinely given purpose. Where revolution makes institutionalize religions their adversary, a renaissance based on science literacy would embrace the various beliefs under an umbrella of reality, reason and purpose.

The key for the Collective is to "learn all you can learn and seek the Creator." As a conscious individual, If you have decided to stop seeking the God in your life, in your mind, by default, you make the white man the most powerful being in your reality whether a maintainer of the SYSTEM or not.

Thus, a "conscious" individual cannot be atheist by the Collective standards. It is understandable to find people in the masses that think like this but a person in the Conscious community (and Collective) cannot truly be conscious without the belief of The One God. A typical Atheist tactic of lambasting religion with its many contradictions, inconsistencies and distortions, is not proof that God doesn't exist, but suggests that the God may not be connected in any way to that religion the atheist is attacking.

While government (isms) and religion of this world are supposed to curb wars, fighting, hunger, strife, and poverty within humanity, the questions of civilization, life and the exploration of the mind and the cosmos are exclusively a challenge for the citizens of science. We are that people. History, not "his-story" tells us this within the Conscious community. We gave it to the world once before, we can do it again. In this world, when the two cross lanes, religion and science, conflict occurs. In a scientific socialist culture, with space travel, industry, and exploration as the focus of life, they must be balanced properly.

From Revolution to Renaissance is path that can be a life time dedication for a worthy generational project. It starts with you.

“Let us put our minds together and see what life we can make for our children.”
