The “Collective” in the STAR TREK science fiction television series is a large group of aliens, billions of cyborg automatons that invade space and conquer planets through the galaxy. These fictional characters of the Star Trek franchise, called Borg, are the powerful enemy of humans and all intelligent life forms in the Alpha quadrant, the section of the galaxy where humans currently reside. The Borg travel throughout the vast sectors of space in their cubed spaceships assimilating (changing) other life forms, turning them into Borg drones to increase their ranks. In many episodes in the series, the Borg would typically start their space battles and assimilation process by approaching the unfortunate human or alien spacecraft, even entire planets and announcing....in an almost sinister and robotic voice....

“We are the Borg. You will be assimilated. We will add your biological and technological distinctiveness to our own. Your culture will adapt to service us. Resistance is futile.”

Borg victims were then physically changed against their will, and were conscripted into a Borg hive, Hubs of the Collective that mentally connect the billions of other Borg drones together and allowed them to have the same purpose, be on the same technological level, have the same strengths and weaknesses and truly be one race with one purpose,... which as the story goes, was to achieve perfection.

Looking at a more realistic story, but just as fascinating, on this Earth, there are currently 6 billion or so humans living when this magazine started (2014). In almost every nation, in almost every community, in every major city on this planet, you will find “Aboriginals” or black people who arguably make up the majority of that 6 billion, approximately two thirds of it. These people are, according to science, the original descendants of those who began human life on the planet. Through various gene mutations, all other races come from them. They are the true “Earthlings,” “Hue”-mans, or sometimes offensively suggested, “Mud people” people of the planet. Through an in depth look at scripture, science, history and reality, one can see these particular people face an unusual problem that is similar to the fictional Borg race. They too are striving for perfection. Bean Soup Science is a tool to help them guide through this journey. (Cont. On p.41)

Now you know....

The Hijab

(Pronounced Ha – job),

Why they wrapped up in sheets? Ain't they hot?

Apart of our resurrection concerns the need for the women (and men) to become “modest” again. This is an old school concept that has dwindled away from the masses due to an assimilation process, particularly in America. Armani, Sara Blakely, Calvin Klein, and other fashion designers have dictated our fashions and the leaning towards piety is rare in their world.

Who sets the trends to determine “ what’s in?” Once the standard is set, we accept it. Miniskirts, no white after labor day, orange being the new black? Our resurrection process begins here as well and demands that we take charge of whatever styles that are currently happening in fashion trends. Like the wimple seen on Nuns, Hijabs are symbols of morality and uprightness. They non-verbally give the signal in the community to respect and honor the woman that wears them. Try imagining Mary, the mother of Jesus without one! Now you know!

Resurrection Corner

Here’s something I bet you didn’t know. In order for our people to rise, we should NOT be looking for a Savior, a prophet or a Christ to lead us? Check your Bible and Quran again. Instead, we should be PREPARING ourselves for a Christ figure to lead us. What’s says the he would come like a thief in night,.....that means nounced. So what are you looking up in the sky for when done here on Earth? What does the Quran say of Christ? Thus, a follower of Christ doesn’t mean to simply wait for Being ready for the Christ doesn’t mean just being bapthe Shadada while continuing to raising hell on the planet Gangsta or Negro (mentally dead, deaf, dumb & blind). Instead, you are called to change. No one is perfect. But everyone should strive for perfection in their lives. We are suppose to build a world and establish ourselves in a lifestyle conducive to a kingdom of THE God. This means from a resurrection perspective, humanity should concentrate on four basic things to prepare. Behavior, based on Ma’at & (in tune with a healthy “guilty conscious”) within us. The second is speech. Love, peace, friendship, and positive affirmations can be transferred best by verbal communication, where as a simple dirty look can usually begin a fist fight anywhere in the world. Third, appearance, both Bible and Quran go into the importance of this, particularly for the woman. The new reality will ultimately come from them and the children they teach, not necessarily from man. Finally, Knowledge. We are destroyed by the lack of it. A “science renaissance “ must be the first phase before the awakening (resurrection of humanity). All of these four aspects are navigated in our minds by a two simple rules.... Belief in the One God and treat others as you want them to treat you. Don’t let anyone tell you , that you need to give this amount of money, you need to be like these people, you need to be a Christian, a Jew, a Muslim, etc., to be a better person. Let these two simple rules guide and keep you in sync with your change of behavior, speech, appearance, and knowledge.

“Believe in the One God and treat others as you want them to treat you.”

Ever been to a family reunion or some gathering and thought you were a sitting in a "Sit down??" (Mafia meeting). Making money is easy when you want to make it to help others and not just for yourself. The universe seems to want to help you be successful. But occasionally, I hear people speak of so many ways to get money in their pockets and those same ways land them in jail in the process. It is as if a entire race of people received their business training from watching shows like Breaking bad, Boardwalk Empire and Sopranos. Also, if winning the lotto is your financial strategy for a comfortable retirement nest egg, I truly feel sorry for whatever family you are trying to support.

Looking outside the rat race, money can be made. It starts with proper education and then an idea. So, here are some ways, (1,001) to get the life you deserve and keep it, while helping your fellow man in the process.

Looking over the fence...What are they doing?

European, African, Asian, Hispanic children, etc., the World future 2011 Conference in Vancouver introduced a series of Eight Challenges. This competition brings about higher level technology for humanity as well as to make someone a fortune and famous. Hopefully, ideas will come from the community college classes found in "da hood," anywhere USA.

Challenge #1, build a probe that makes it to the center of the earth with systems to send real time sensory data back.

Challenge #2, create technology showing (in actual size) unrecorded events that happened 20 years in the past. Not exactly time travel, but time viewing.

Challenge # 3, create technology that reduces solid material (A brick) into particles molecule size, within seconds, using no more than 500 watts of power, without damaging machine, people or objects in close proximity.

Challenge #4, with a object two thousand lbs. or more, show total gravitational control by increasing the weight of said object to 4 thousand lbs. and reducing it to 1,000 lbs. Finally, creating a negative gravity effect by lifting the same object within the air 1,000 feet and returning it without damage.

Challenge #5, Produce an electron – based storage system no larger than 10 millimeters cubed and create it for less than $1 per 100 terabytes. The device should upload, store, & retrieve info equal to the US library of Congress and do so in less than 10 minutes using 1 watt per TB/month or less.

Challenge #6, My favorite, invent technology that can travel the speed of light with proper sensors to relay scientific data and details.

Challenge #7, Swarm bot technology. A swarm of half inch synchronized mechanical devices capable of lifting a person into the air and returning them safely will truly be a marvel in robotics.

Finally, Challenge #8, create a direct mind-to-computer interface that will allow 25 individuals to answer groups of questions within seconds and have no harmful effects to the users. To find information in a library would take hours, On the internet, a couple of minutes. With this connection, anywhere, anytime in seconds.

There are rules for teams, prizes, entrance fees and the governing bodies for this competition.

Keep in mind, these are real challenges and are currently being worked on by Japanese, European, French and other scientists of different races.. except Africans? Shame. Come off the field and get back in school!

IMF billions reported in Swiss account

BERN, Switzerland — A Swiss investigator, probing whether Russian corruption money was laundered in Switzerland, says that up to $5 billion of an IMF loan paid to cool Moscow's 1998 financial crisis may have been diverted via a secret bank account. Laurent Kasper-Ansermet, an investigating magistrate in Geneva, opened the money-laundering inquiry nine months ago following a major U.S. investigation into whether $15 billion of "dirty" Russian money was funneled through accounts held at the Bank of New York. Earlier this year, former Bank of New York executive Lucy Edwards and her husband, Peter Berlin, admitted laundering $7 billion.

List of three suspects in dragging death goes on trial

The Associated Press

ER, Texas — Last June, just hours after the black man's right arm, head and torso were recovered from where they'd scattered as he was dragged two blood-smeared miles behind a pickup truck, investigators zeroed in on three white suspects.

All had blood on their shoes. All had criminal records. Two of the three reportedly had white supremacist leanings, reinforced in prison and reflected in racist tattoos that blanketed their upper bodies.

A wrench engraved with the third man's last name was found near the shredded body of James Byrd Jr.

Despite the provocative physical evidence, the trial of the first suspect, John William "Bill" King will not be open and shut until it begins Monday with jury selection.

King, 24, is an ex-convict with a history of involvement in a racist prison gang. But whether he intended to kidnap Byrd and then to kill him will be key in the capital tioning because of the wrench, told officers the three men had been drinking the evening of June 6. Late that evening or shortly after midnight, the men went out for a ride in Berry's rusty, 1982 gray Ford pickup.

Across town, Byrd had attended a niece's bridal shower that afternoon. Around 6 p.m., two of his sisters drove him to a friend's house for a party. Byrd, who lived on disability checks, was too poor to own a car, so he walked where he needed to go or caught rides. Late that night, he began walking the three miles home from the party.

Berry spotted Byrd and offered him a ride. Berry and Byrd had the same parole officer and may have known each other. Byrd, a former vacuum cleaner salesman and father of three, had served time in prison for theft. Berry, working as a manager at the town's movie theater, was rebuilding his life after a stint in prison boot camp for a 1992 burglary that King helped organize.

This is what Berry says happened after the pickup truck stopped for Byrd:

King objected to giving a ride to a "nigger" and, after the group stopped at a convenience store, took the wheel and drove to an abandoned logging road outside town. There, King declared he was "fixing to scare" Byrd. Berry watched as Brewer and King beat Byrd into unconsciousness.

Berry fled and King drove after him. After Berry got back in and the truck took off, he turned and saw Byrd's body bouncing behind, fastened to the bumper with a chain.

Black agents and FBI settle '91 race bias suit

REUTERS NEWS AGENCY

A federal judge yesterday ~~settled~~ between the FBI and black agents who accused the agency of racial discrimination in a suit that was initially filed in 1991.

U.S. District Judge Thomas Hogan said the settlement, which would establish new promotion, job evaluation and discipline procedures within the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will proceed over the objection of one plaintiff.

"It seems to me that the one remaining claim ... does not overcome the validity of the settlement," Judge Hogan said from the bench.

The settlement was approved by more than 500 past and present black FBI agents who have worked for the agency since March 1991.

Under the agreement, the FBI would be required to establish a new selection process for promotions by 2004.

In the suit, black FBI agents had argued that promotions to supervisory roles should be based on personal relationships and not on a fair, objective process.

Haunted by the stereotypes that have been accepted and incorporate in belief and culture, some just many unjust, they actively search for the way to return to that destiny while challenging those people to change and resist that SYSTEM. To be continued...

Unity defined

Think about all the possible chances in history for the Original man to unify behind a common purpose or goal. Matter of fact, don't think of just Original people but any group. Ask the question.... What did people accomplish in history when unity was priority one in their cultural and social norm? Countless have charged into battle ending their lives bravely, yelling "for the good of the country," "long live the king," or even God is Great (Allah U Akbar). Let me get to the point. When a people have decided to cherish a concept such as a geographic land mass (country), have a concept or relationship perceived relationship with a divinity (religion), even similar cultural characteristic, tongue, clan, color, etc. They can accomplish what they will.

Once a bond is set in the mind of individuals, great things can be accomplished. Unity is a crucial and vital concept to help a large group of people move to a common goal. This struggle has attempted to create many goals as well as unity. They range from a concept of the United States of Africa, a back-to-Africa movement, a new economic "Middle Passage" with dual citizenship for Africans and African Americans. And a Reparations agenda. Some people simply want to be accepted or assimilated into the population with equal rights, civil rights & human rights. Some have even suggested to ignore the "7053 reality factor" (p.33) totally, and desire to accept & live like second class citizens. There are even some today that still believe they are cursed by God because of their black skin and will never be anything, they should not fit into civilized society. Some suggest keep loving their neighbor no matter how they are treated, while others suggest race wars. "Yikes." Unity is no where in sight for the Original People. With all the alternatives within this "struggle" this revolution reviewed, there has to be generic, basic concepts that can be considered foundations of unity for the Original people. Consider the Collective's goals and purpose:

To (Mentally) resurrected the Original People of the planet.

This doesn't mean making him apart of this existing civilization (which will pass) but becoming a new creature capable of ushering in THE new civilization spoken of in scripture. At the same time this will not exclude other races. The idea is to lead by example and show this world, that clearly denounces you, that another one can be built by you.

To promote and assist in the creation of United States of Africa.

This grand experiment we live in today has taught us what to do in a society and what NOT to do. A civilized people build civilization of our own neighborhoods, criminal Justice systems, Wall street, Universities, etc. ready to share, support, guide and lead the rest of the world. We have the doctors, engineers, scientists, security experts, teachers, every field to start now!

GIVE THE BLACKS TEXAS

Nervous about the prospect of former slaves coming north after the war, Union senators propose the creation of a new territory to keep blacks elsewhere. "Elsewhere" will be half of Texas.

By JOHN GAUSS

Imagine a United States territory devoted solely to the segregation of blacks from white Americans, located in a huge portion of what was, only months before, Confederate Texas. Imagine long-established Northern and Southern black families willingly leaving their homes to move to this territory, and being so content there that envious Mexican states just across the border beg to be annexed by the United States so they can enjoy similar happiness. Unbelievable as it is, this bizarre imaginary territory became quite real in the proceedings of the U.S. Congress in January 1863. That month, lawmakers heard Kansas Republican Senator James Henry Lane, politician-soldier, anti-slavery zealot and favorite of President Abraham Lincoln, introduce Senate Bill 45, intended "to set apart a portion of the state of Texas for the use of persons of African descent." The all-black "Territory of the Rio Grande" was about to receive serious official consideration. The content of Bill 45 may seem odd today, but it reflected the burning concerns of a great number of Northerners during the Civil War. Many who sought freedom for blacks thought them inferior nonetheless, and had no desire to live and work with them. More than a few Northern legislators, while eager for

54 CIVIL WAR TIMES ILLUSTRATED • May/June 1990

But this can go deeper, with a nation, land to call our own under our feet, a space program is possible. Why a space program? A brief study in astronomy will tell you that the God has much larger plans for the total of humanity. Hundreds of Earth-like planets (exoplanets) are now being discovered. Near by Asteroids that can yield more raw ore than half of what has been mined throughout human history, have been detected. This God has made it clear that man is to seek him out, in the stars. We were born to leave this planet and spread across the cosmos. The question is, not how do we get there but when.

To awaken any possible psychic abilities in humanity.

“Be ye gods, children of the most High God.” With “trans humanist” concept in mind, and the current available technology of this world, man can become something greater than he is. Psychic abilities, like God himself, has been ignored or not taken seriously by the science world. But there never was a time in history that the Original people did not believe in the God or their connection (Third Eye) to him. Thus, if this ability happens to be more prominent in one group of individuals than another, I could see an opposing group suggesting those abilities were not real, untrue, demonic,...just to keep you from developing them. We promote the scientific inquiry of such talents within the Collective.

To learn of the God through his creation by venturing through the cosmos (interstellar travel).

Although our purpose and goals are directly effecting the Original people and indirectly the rest of humanity, the Collective is meant to be all inclusive and generic, White, black, young old, rich and poor. We know not all of the Original people will accept these goals. The exclusion of atheists for example, is coincidental. Keep in mind, one does not have to be “religious” But, at the core of the Collective is what I like to call a “V’ger imperative” and that is to “collect all data and seek the Creator.”

Indeed, one can clearly point to the majority of humanity’s problems emanating from religion or lack of proper religious dogma. But it is the Collective’s belief that no one knows the GOD and no one will unless he reveals himself to them (metaphysically) or until humanity has ventured through his creation, studying and seeking, possibly outside our own galaxy, thousands of years from today and millions of light years away. We make the assumption that all this real estate (the universe) has a purpose. So, to all the so called “leaders” and those down with the struggle, I humbly ask you to consider these goals. Construct your organization mission statements , your own personal goals around them; if not just for the sake of UNITY. The wisdom and teachings of those like Dr. MLK, Marcus Garvey, Elijah Muhammad, Gandhi, Jesus, must continue through our leaders today. Not one of these men would have been able to push their ideas without a unified group behind them. The article by John Gauss, May/June 1990 Issue of CIVIL WAR TIMES Freedom ILLUSTRATED, entitled “Give the blacks Texas,” showing we had a chance for true reparations to be given Bill 45, - “ indented to set apart a portion of the state of Texas for the use of persons of African descent.” And that was by last realistic opportunity. Get over it. There’s plenty of land, this planet and others are waiting for us now. But first, Rise, connect, build and then to the stars.

Commentary on the Conscious level Post from Pat Hardiesty

As a conscious person, I have to represent my self as one connected to a Divine Supreme Being. Also, I must see myself as a scientist, first and foremost, before seeing myself as a Christian, a gangster, a player, Jew, Muslim, American, Swedish, military, family, Texan, etc.

Why? The Collective has studied the problems of the Original People on the planet. Currently, these people are stuck (or being held) intellectually and educationally on levels we can they can no longer afford. We, the Collective, must change them, right now, today. Allegiance to a religion of this world, a nation, a doctrine or philosophy can be accepted only if it is conducive to the Collective's goals, which is ultimately to make humanity better and to prepare them to venture to the stars. We have a long way to go. Although we have the knowledge to grow and evolved into the cosmos-creatures we were intended to be, we have not applied the knowledge because we exist in a world that systematically separates groups of people from that wisdom. This world does this because it attempts to dictate behavior to suit it's needs. Thus, a process must be created to identify, expose, and defeat those forces that continually push those to be other than your true self. That process is called "Core Novus." (New Core).

Let me a Facebook (Pat Hardiesty)< Hood rats have multiplied. , They I am sorry to say, are content with having nothing if they have to work for it. We HAVE gone backward. Go and spend a day in school Listen to their conversations, the language, the mode of dress. It is beyond belief. And please do not blame the teachers. I don't even know if you can blame the parents, maybe grandparents, (kid is 15, mom is 30, grandma 45, too many wage slaves in this economy). I don't know but we ARE killing ourselves, and the immigrant children who settled near them want to be "American," and so they quickly adopt these behaviors. They settle in the neighborhoods of poverty as refugees. Their parents cannot get their heads around that one. You become their worst enemy if you try to redirect them. After they waste time going to schools where they have not taken the responsibility for themselves (It does start with self), then when they are pushed out and realize, " Oh damn, I have to take care of myself for real?" THEN, the hateration begins in earnest. That's when bank robbing, mugging, car jacking, (they were already fighting-daily) begins. It's huge in this country now and it's wide spread and has many junctures. Go on YouTube and search school fights. They absolutely LOVE it. A brand new kiddie jail was built right in the middle of the city. Even that doesn't deter this ratchet behavior. Grown folks will go to a fight after schools let out (Why are they not at a job at that time?) and egg the kids on or join in. I could go on forever, so I'll shut up now because, it is what it is. I'm retiring in June. >

Thanks Pat for your comments. Help is on the way. Ideally, this world needs us. It needs us to become the best people we can be. Many would suggest that life is about partying, family, church, happiness, love and all of this may be true to some extent. But what we can no longer afford that luxury of NOT changing for the better. What needs to change? Our core beliefs of right and wrong, and our ability to strive for being right in action, thought and behavior.

Prayer for Serenity:

God, grant me serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can & wisdom to know the difference. Living one day at a time, enjoying one moment at a time, accepting hardship as a pathway to peace, taking as Jesus did, this sinful world as it is, not as I would have it, trusting that you will make all things right if I surrender to your will, so that I may be reasonably happy in this life and supremely happy with you forever in the next. Amen!

Taken from a debate on Facebook, where I suggested someone (black woman) should have not been surprised she was blocked because of her racist comments.

JT Edwards asks: Who is "We" ? Cause if you still implying that she or anyone of color can be racist then your not part of us (we), but you're with them cause only the misinformed and them believe people with no power can be racist.

Dear Brother: The idea that "people of color" can not be racist, stems from the concept that racism requires both racist views and "power" or the ability to impose those views upon others. Because black people do not have real power (in your mind) they can not be racist. This is incorrect because you are misunderstanding the term. Racism can also be hateful, bias, cruel actions and verbal statements meant to cause pain upon groups of specific individuals. In other words, it has its own power. Also, if it is to be eradicated, it must not be used for our agendas. This doesn't mean to love an enemy. This means to deal with him wisely and handle each situation appropriately. Not all white people are your enemy, so racism allows you to identify your enemy but it can not stop you from producing the civilization you are required to create.

Anonymous asks: How can one claim to be a revolutionary but don't hate the white man for what he has done to our people? This "Krakker" is a beast and our natural enemy. He has made this clear throughout history. It sounds like you brother have lost your way and have sold out!

Dear Bro/Sister: Clearly, your definition of "revolution" is different from mine. First, Thank God, he has sent various prophets through out time with specific instructions on how to deal with the wicked on our planet. God sees us, not as white and black, but right and wrong. Although it may be true they (whites) have played the role "devil" in history, it is their creation, the "negro" (mentally dead & dumb) that the Collective is concerned with. They (Negroes) must change & regain his/her true conscious self and identity. This process of resurrection (revolution) of the Original people back to their true nature requires that we do not hate anyone, including ourselves. You suggest simply hating them back as a strategy? I suggest continuing on with your original destiny unimpeded and building a world better than theirs. How do we decide? I'll give you a hint. "On Earth, as it is in Heaven...." Stop hatin' and BUILD!!

Metaphysics, Ma'at, & Me.... The 7053 reality

Through out time, humanity has created concepts and images representing their version of the Supreme Being. Societies have come and gone believing whatever their leaders, slave masters or conquerors told them. Many times through history those in charge, never returned to those lands or let prisoners and slaves go with the accurate information that was originally and intentionally preserved. Religious institutions and their interpretations of sacred relics are sometimes dedicated by those that have nationalistic, racial and religious loyalties undermining the truth. Uniformity based on absolute truth is the keep to our resurrection. In mind, spirit and action, a people can not free themselves from a mental bondage until they have re connected with the universal and cosmological order of things. Ask any professional Navigator. In order to know where you want to go, you must first understand were you are. Many of us are Christian because we grew up in a Christian family or converted. Amazingly enough, we will swear up and down that we are correct in every-way.

Keep in mind, they claim this usually without personal study in detail the other religions or their own! Like wise, Muslims are Muslim because we grew up in a Islam world or family, or converted. Jewish are Jews because their family was Jewish or converted. Hindu, Wiccan, Voodoo, etc. Within a race of a people that require a unity element for it's resurrection process to take effect, this is something that must be addressed. A structured process is needed. A systematic approach to discover and apply the necessary knowledge to move a people towards unity & perfection as defined by our example, the Christ who was sent by his Father, whose proper name today is "Allah." Experiment # 1414 (below) starts by the accumulation of data from the reader. Which do you consider is a picture of "God" to you and why? Remember there is no correct response and this only a experiment to prove a point later. We took the liberty to not list present an image of a Caucasian man on a cross, as it is the image that the world represents to the masses and would have made the experiment to easy. (bias).

Scientific Socialism as a weapon of theory

Greetings, First let's resolve to mean that everything that the forward movement is doing should show a revolutionary perspective. Things like work studies, programs, debates, town hall meetings, political speaking engagements, fundraisers, protests, R.B.G. cinema, solidarity and fraternal relations with other progressives, etc., that the capitalist system tires to shelve. You now must compose of serious study and self development in accordance with the many levels of historical materialists progression.

As we commemorate the anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Walter Rodney, I am stimulated by the need for all of us to continue the ancestor's quest for the liberation of all oppressed peoples from neo-colonialism. We must raise the ideal of Internationalism, Land and independence, Reparations and Repatriation of/for New Afrikans (N.A.) held here in the dungeons of united states imperialism. This enables one to garner the necessity of theory and practice. It is 27 years since the bomb of the assassins struck our dear brother Walter with many regrets. And, it is very common to hear from capitalist spokesmen/women the argument in the ideological struggle against socialism, the statement that the social system or any socialist construction characterizes the abolition of the individual for the sake of the state—what ever the state. And, I'm sure you have heard the absurd saying that Walter took his own life; what rubbish!. Such assertions need to be addressed again and again' taken care not only theoretically but practically as well. This specter 9 a dying colonialism) that is responsible for so much inhumanity to man, including Walter assassination continues even though Smith, the bomb expert, is deceased. The struggle will continue, for all the guilty animals to be brought to a people's tribunal. Those who can recall let them pass this opportunity of the historical legends to the YOUTHS in the best creative and talented ways they can conjure. The then president of Guyana, Forbes Burnham, at a may gathering of workers (May 1, 1981 Guyana) is reported to have said in a brit/brutish accent " anti-mortem of a headless corpse", 42 days later Dr. Walter Rodney was blown up almost beyond recognition. Also, I am reminded of the fact by DAYCLEAN/vol.6 No.2/Mar. 08, of the reminiscent 80's, where a warning was directed to Walter's part, the Working Peoples Alliance (WPA) titled " Our Steel Is Sharper." Dr. Rodney was assassinated not long after that warning on June 13th, 1981. I hope I haven't lost you, the reader, for this paper is about continuing the legacy of Brother Walter, and all our freedom fighters— PEOPLES POWER.

"guardianship" was oppressive and barbaric."*

My comments, I must/will contribute. As is known, or should be known, through the many teachings and travels, Afrikans did not come to OUR America on the Mayflower (the ship in which pilgrims sailed 1620 to N.A.) Oh! I should have told you I'm an Afrikan, a new Afrikan that is and that this paper attenuates such an accentuate. Now! Post colonial Afrika has good indicators of the level of social development. Kenya will be the example given here tonight, since it has made the news and should be on all the progressive minds. Also, there is many a lesson to be learnt about Kenya's past and present. " In facing Mount Kenya, by Mwalimu Jomo Kenyatta, (a book that was severely criticized by Jeremy Murray-Brown and others I do wish to mention here). Although of the many criticism of Jomo, I must bring to mind an observant aspect to prove a point of historical fact that is of such material complexity. In fact, this doesn't even begin to define European imperialism and its adventure (safari tourist style) of human tyranny and deceit. Kenyatta wrote, " In the old order of the African society, with all the evils that are suppose to be connected to it, a man was man, and as such he had the rights of a man and liberty to exercise his will and thought in a direction which suited his purposes as well as those of his fellowmen: but today an African, no matter what his station is in life, is like a horse which moves only in the direction that the rider pulls the rein. " What has made such research scarce and invaluable? Kenyatta's moral was not ambiguous. Also, see Diop's " Pre-colonial Africa." The Colonial theory of "guardianship" was oppressive and barbaric. Mahatma saw this and more during British colonial occupation of India. Jomo's further investigation is conclusive, "In our opinion the African can only advance to a "higher level" if he is free to express himself, to organize economically, politically, socially, and to take part in the government of his own country. In this way he be able to develop his creative mind, initiative and personality which hitherto have been hindered by the multiplicity of incomprehensible laws and ordinances."

To my mind the above is a classic and appropriate scientific observation of communal/social living (socialist examples) that the colonialist powers attempted to wipe out. Where ever one may look for social beginning types of such early levity can be seen. There then existed varied types of seed of this now become socialist phenomena, and you know what! Man was the fundamental factor; not monkeys, but MAN, human beings. On the Afrikan, Man kind was reliance, individualized, but yet specific the Alfa & Omega of industry. And on his capacity for struggle (action) depended on the success of that first principle—VISION.

This capacity came with the Afrikan on the Trans Atlantic journey into the Diaspora. The Afrikan still posses this strength in tis entirety. Go to well meaning writers of world history, there you find classic examples of working class resistance. These struggles began and developed in two distant phases, some will say it always does according to man and his environment. Man was alienated to a certain extent or Afrikans fragmented because of captivity is always a prime candidate in need of mobilization (Sanokfa). And leaders of the liberation fronts (South Africa, Kenya, Guinea Bissau, Cuba, Vietnam), having experienced 1st and 2nd World Wars, slavery, oppresion/exploitation and institutional academia (not put in the necessary historic gradient) became the power house of revolutionary consciousness and enthusiasm. Herein was/is the catalyst that created the subjective conditions for victory over the combined forces and efforts of European colonialism. These distant phases well studied/researched and creatively applied to the different historical conditions must become our habits and entrenched in our minds manifest Peoples Power, the objective of thought and revolution (change) that must /will/is take (ing) place. Man as individual was/is the fundamental factor.

What we are declaring here tonight at this commemoration for a great cadre is the continuity of the working class struggle, for bread and justice. And in so doing create that radical break with capitalism that is required by all colonized and oppressed/exploited people. Through total commitment to the revolution (revo) which is anti-capitalist/anti-imperialist. We must/will use the power of ideas;" by any means necessary" to get us out of this mire whose stench reaches the high heavens. Old but golden still is scientific socialism, an ideology that is applicable to this new stage of technopolitics, a weapon of theory. The opportunist are scattered who once confused social-living (socialism) as something fit only for Anglo Saxons. As regarding the intellectual Rodney stated quite clearly they must become guerrilla intellectuals." We must create lots of them. The attempt to define the individual is long overdue. Is man a finished or an unfinished product? Can man submit himself to a conscious process of self education? The answer can not be found in the subjective conditions of historical materialism. They are to be found in the objective historical material conditions of supply and demand. Man as a social being of need (not wants), indeed, his objective, one of the many, to eat and be happy with ideas to be more productive and industrious and must need of mindfulness to end exploitation/oppresion of man by man is the fulfilling of purpose and soul. The revolution is love. And love is the dynamic that experiences the contradictions. The negation of the negation; man and his unmade quality is he is simply this; begin, begin, start? Man does not take steps like a kangaroo, unless he's in a bag-race. One foot is always ahead of the other foot.

Just so is the newly forming socialist society competitive with the "old ideas." The social scientist Karl Marx, noted that the period of transition(that is from capitalism to communism) was conceived as the result of the explosive transformation of the capitalist system destroyed by its own contradictions. Marx didn't witness this happening, but some of you here tonight will see such a happening and your children will bare witness to this historical fact that has faced such intellectual rubbish and snobbery, ambushed and hijacked to the deepest levels of Dante's inferno. There are other examples of this transformation phenomenon where capitalism has developed sufficiently, for its effects to be felt in one way or the other on the people, but it is not its own inner contradictions that explode the system after having exhausted all of its possibilities. This contradiction must be explained in the context of the octopus (capitalism) after losing its imperialist strongholds (tentacles that can not renew itself in time; those stuck with the old ideas) dismembers, hence something new. The example (other) is those European countries like Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, etc. The struggle for national liberation against imperialist forces will always bring down the wrath of the privileged classes unto the oppressed and exploited. Conscious acts, therefore, are very resourceful to liberation movements in the over throw of neo-colonial systems (economic formations). In countries of the Caribbean (Guyana), with the exception of Cuba, North America (Fort Worth, Texas), there has not been (or very little) a complete education, for social work and wealth through the simple process of appropriation which is far away from the mouths of the people. Che told us this since 1965. I think being parents of the revolution it is worth being repeated here tonight. Jan Carew in a Third Eye lecture titled 13th Annual African Awakening; The Awakening of Africa in tis Heartland (Dallas, TX) repeatedly told the audience to read and research for themselves and in making this sacrifice would be a great good to the service in the awakening of the Afrikan Motherland. Change (revo) is a struggle that demands sacrifice, for on the one hand you have underdevelopment and the other migrant-capital to the developed nations which always is imperialist in nature. Does Guyana foe example have an economic base? And if so why does it take the beaten path of material interest as the lever of accelerated development? Why? Is it because they are not aware of the intrigues of the capitalist market system of simply put, they don't care a damn? Why!?! Can't they see that the capitalist financial system is dying and as all drivers of cars should know there is great danger

To self and kind if you are not sighting the road properly? Yes! There can be a matter of reason, for begin negligent, but to what suffice after massive pain and suffering and death, mostly to the young and old. No! We are not saying that socialism can be built with the AID(s) of worn out systems, profit making, individual material incentives, assassinations, live threatening attempts on the working class or what's left of it, the market system as a basic economic cell, and so forth. I hope I am not sounding as a decrepitude Guyanese who has lived too long outside of the context of content. I speak of this economic cul-de-sac that most post-colonized countries have taken, even the Ft. Worth working class is stuck in this condition. And most possible other parts of the Babylon system. Actually speaking, you can not go any-place where this seemingly plausible historical condition can not be found; its cancerous. Let me say that all attempts will be rather difficult to perceive the moment of miscalculation, for we are looking at the difficult way of market economies.

In this time of calculation, developing consciousness is undermined as well as your adapted economic base. This is where the New Afrikan/New Man must be created. The necessity of a whole new approach of people and their environment is of utmost importance. No one in their right senses can turn a blind eye to the rapid changing tides of a failing economic order. One may go to sleep tonight in his/her house with a roof and upon awakening to the morrow providing one still have sight, find the house roof gone, and not a sound was made with its removal. Our ancestors always reminded us of the importance of correctly choosing the instrument of r the mobilization of the people. Let me remind you incase you forgot, that instrument must be of a fundamental moral nature. Material incentives must not be forgotten and utilized in the correct manner, especially those of a social nature. The continued activation of moral incentives in times of danger, and in terms of becoming permanent must become a developing consciousness on order for values to acquire new categories. Everyone is to be taught this and creatively more. The decolonizing phenomena is similar to the formation of capitalist consciousness in its first stages. Upon further research social scientists have said that capitalism was very armistically forceful, but at the same time it educated its people in the system (divine right or nature as a mechanical entity). Socialist institutions must become more popular than they have been introducing that the masses become one in thought and critical analysis. In such manner the individual chances of being heard become greater. The social apparatus must become a force to be reckoned with technical and ideological education is now hooked up with the individual consciousness that allows collective participation and security in all the mechanisms of direction and production (role of work studies). The necessity of accentuation is much better as he/she learns these processes of interdependence, and parallel advances in their closeness help achieve total awareness of social self and kind, which in turn helps gives one the full realization as a human being now free from alienation. Translated correctly/concretely , Che says"...it is the re-appropriation of man's nature through freed work and the expression of his own human condition through culture and art." (See also Cabral's "Return to the source:"/National Lib. & Culture/p. 41 " The value of culture as an element of resistance....". And on page 39 " For with a strong indigenous cultural, life foreign domination cannot be sure of its perpetuation.")

This manifestation requires/acquires a new condition. " Man as a commodity ceases to exist and a system is established which grants a quota for the fulfillment of social duty. " (CHE/Selected Works/p.162). This social duty in specific terms, for us New Afrikans/New man, etc., in Ft. Worth, TX, Guyana, or elsewhere Scientific Socialism is a weapon of theory. Let me suggest, as Dr. Rodney did, that we are trying to build/create a whole new society different from capitalist society at least in theory; practice will automatically follow. This admonition is put here because scientific socialist perspectives a re a necessity, if we are going to survive on Earth. Dear Reader, are you thinking of going to Mars? I didn't think so. And so we are here tonight looking at differences (cultural, racial, power of the state, internal qualities, colonial/neo colonial, black/white working class, black nationalism, scientific socialism, capitalism and so on). There will be thoughts construed here tonight based on what is being said/examined and of a course what one thought he/she might have heard. And as usual doubts and questions will/must be entertained and time will be allotted for such. Brothers and sisters we have to start looking somewhere/everywhere, for a solution to our problems. And of a fact, each situation raises its own contradictions, but we have to build/grow. Political movements all over the world who mean real change are dealing with these unique species like wise in a positive way. We here in this town at this time are going to have that work no matter how long the delay takes. We are to be remindful of the fact that this work must acquire a new condition, if we are to attain the characteristic of being free. The social system being discussed here as a theory says " The means of production belong to the society and the machine is only the frontline where duty is performed. There man's thoughts are slowly liberated form the troublesome fact that presupposes the need to satisfy his/her animal need through work."

This new self, gradually portrayed through work, is the overstanding of human magnitude through the created object (work carried out). Man the worker now has a belonging, a brightness that contributes to life and society. There is reflection and fulfillment of his social duty. We must do everything we can to creatively though our talents to apply this theory to this new value/category of social duty, and to unite it to the development of technology (Sophisticated industry) in part which will provide the necessary conditions for greater (voluntary labor also). There is this scientific conception that man truly achieves his full human condition when he produces without being compelled by the physical necessity of selling him/herself as a commodity. This research found that there are foreseeable problems of voluntary labor when historically examined. Work was shown to still have coercive aspects probably owing to historical conditions of a biological nature (more study warranted). Although, I think this can be traced to developing mankind transformational progress that does not take place all at once. There are ages of set periods as early as 12, and then 21 through 40 and so on. Some people are known to have never self –developed in some capitalists societies, in terms of the revolution, and forwardation to new man.

In this occasion, I came across information about places in our world where Afrikan people were taking a firm stand against European imperialism, the anti-war elements, the peace movements and other fronts, like in the Congo, headed by Laurent Kabila. New emerging states (Brazil & its Mercosur, Venezuela and even conservative South Korea), were thinking in some what fashion of policies that are anti-people, in all examples of program documentation that would combat the imperialist forces. My curiosity was aroused when Brazil's president called for a "level field", and called on the U.S. to stop subsidizing farmers in the U.S. If one should take the follow-up on these spins, there is plenty of runs to be scored. In fact, most developing nations and their remarks show great mistrust of the US financial market system. For them, it is either broke or decrepit and cannot be fixed or a financial fix to hell, which is an economic embarrassment. Remarks about the war, terrorists, globalization, market economy, nuclear proliferation, Iran, Iraq, safe imports in regards to health issues, etc. The people of these countries, and I'm sure Afrika and Afrikans, are beginning to realize/recognize that " It isn't simply that the United States is one thing inside and imperialist outside. The United States is imperialist as extension of its whole structure of production and social relations, so that now when these people say they are fighting imperialism it is not an escapist tendency." (W.R. Speaks/p.121) I'm suggesting that in Fort Worth, TX think about this theory being presented here tonight. And somewhere in these lines and words to be heard through listening by way of the tongue is the expressed part/whole of the character for a new (new society, for we the people can not wait any longer for a government/state/city/country to put and end to racist oppression/exploitation/repression/inflation/unemployment/Gestapo police/criminalizing of our youth/ Americans all living in pain/poor health services for the poor/limited elderly care/policies that are anti-black labor, such as indentured servants (Latinos)/immigration problems/poor infrastructures/ this should sound with clear meaning as a failed country. We the people of the world must proclaim in high voices that once these conditions exist anywhere there will be no progress or any survival at all. We must ask the question is this the Will Smith/Warner Bros. pictures "I am Legend" with sound tracks from Bob Marley CD Legend. No matter how it comes over to viewers, Bob sang of Afrika and Afrikans, God the Emperor and of Redemption, old pirates, slavery, nuclear proliferation and LOVE. Remember LOVE is the revolution. The people must ask the question is this, the scenario (no harm meant to the actor of Hollywood/weird direction) of what is to come to all who resist the U.S. superstructure? When I saw the movie, my mind ran straight to Iraq, and I said of a surety, that must be how that unfortunate country looks. Afrika, who first started the divide and rule thing?

My people, this is not a biblical thing of allegorical profundity. This is how capitalism does business. Let's recount, in Guyana, before the British left, they instigated a division between two non white people (both Afrikans and from that great Indus civilization, long ago and not so long ago before the onslaught of the 6,000 + years. War that left the whole colored world fragmented unto this day. In India they did the same between families one Hindu and the other Muslim (Pakistan & India) fight each other to death unto this day. Two white brothers fight each other unto this day, Jew vs. Gentile. Still further you got the Hutus vs. Tutsi). Now more common than ever in America is the assumptive white vs. black and black vs. black. There is more much more, but I hope you got the picture. Yes! European Patriarchy a relatively modern historical condition which has challenged, and actually destroyed to a great extent, Matriarchy, a primordial material condition. Enough has been said about the tentacles of wanton greed and genocide; let us return to where we left off. It is impossible to go through the past. It's like a ravine with sharp shooters on both sides waiting to shoot you down, but there are bourgeois scholars who make a living from this history and who are prepared to walk on the living to get to the dead. At this time, we would like to petition them to come over and join us in building this NEW SOCIETY where there could be no death (destruction) or tears (pain). Come on my brothers, come on my sisters. We got company. Beloved, armed with the vision of our ancestors (they resisted) the New Afrikan in Our America and cadres alike will/must forge a new society (or perish) of humanist principles and working class discipline unparalleled in history. The future of a new man/woman with scientific socialism like arm in arms is the theory that will give pre-eminence to the two pillars of socialist construction, which is the formation of the new woman/man, hence the family and the development of technology. I hope I'm not being redundant. The necessity of technology and scientific formation is the way of the future. Herein it would not be a matter of advancing blindly, but the forwardation of the road open to us by the most advanced countries/communities of the world.

Don't delay the natural progression of the poor and lowly workers of the world anymore, for most Unions like the good Shepard have not watched the flocks properly. They have allowed us to stray and be eaten by wolves. We are calling on the " guerrilla intellectuals" to face up to their responsibilities as an oriented class. How did you get into those universities brothers and sisters? Lest you forget! They were civil and human rights struggles now. Walter Rodney admonition to us was. "We did not create the artificial distinction between mental and manual labor, but it is there, and if it is to be transcended, it isn't simply to be transcended by a so-called progressive intellectual going out to become a manual laborer, it is to be transcended by breaking the pattern of society that entrenches such a distinction" (WR Speaks/p. 113).

Friday January 3, 2014, there was an article by AP/J. Scott Applewhite that proved rather shocking. Apparently, Bill Nye, the “Science Guy” will be at a creation museum in Kentucky to debate evolutionists and biblical creationists. The debate entitled “ Is creation a viable Model of Origins?” Will no doubt cause a stir in the religious and science communities. A Christian activist, Ken Ham, will be taking the side of Creationism and put a recent quote of Bill Nye to the test throughout the debate. Mr. Nye said that “ teaching creationism was bad for children.” The museum asserts that the Earth was created in a few (24 hour) days about 6,000 years ago, displaying dinosaurs and humans living together in the same time period. I will save my comments until the debate but although the facts are clearly on the side of science, it will be interesting if the question is ask to the science guy Do you believe in God and why not? Consciousness, Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics/Medicine were meant to coexist. It is the Core Novus (New Core) teachings of Bean Soup Science. More on this, next time after the debate!

In the Wormhole

What produces a mind that would want to make this person a criminal?
Meet Dr. Frankenstein

Two separate Problems that must be address before any resurrection can occur.

One Solution....

Core Novus!
A change in core beliefs, thoughts and actions.

What produces a mind that would want to make these people stay in their condition? Meet the monster, Frankenstein

I would like to introduce this term to the public. The 7053 reality is the unseen but always felt reality or problem that exists between black & white on the planet. The problem, stems from the continuing psychological after effects of slavery and of a oppressing SYSTEM maintained by a people in constant fear of losing their genetic identity. Whether it is purely racism driven by love of color, a combinations of money, politics, ancient cultural beliefs, fear or religious decree, the Collective examines both fronts of the issue, the “Doctor Frankenstein ” and the “Monster.” Some call it “ addressing the elephant in the room” or “being the bull in a chinaware store,” never politically correct, but ultimately necessary. If these problems are not addressed by the people that are plagued by them, they never will solved. Clearly racism exists and is integrated in today’s social, economical, political and religious systems. It is not a new concept that different cultures manipulate, dictate, even establish entire economic bases off of other race’s ignorance, weaknesses or second class acceptance. But this is more than racism. For some, this is reality. The way it is and the way it should be. Can you identify it? Defeat it? Defend others from it? The 7053 reality is real, and its time for it to be acknowledged, explored and solved.

The Scientific method

2. Do research on the question.
3. Construct a Hypothesis.

4. Test your Hypothesis using observation, or scientific experiments

The New Modern Middle Passage....Blackwards! Ssssissy!!

In order for a United States of Africa to become a reality a new "Middle Passage" must be established between Africans and African Americans. It may not be as easy as saying but it should certainly be easier than it was to create the first Middle Passage.

There was a lot of logistical, accounting, economic and business know how to maintain the slave trade in the past. Also, that was hundreds of years ago. So what's our excuse for not reaching out to our African brothers and sisters and creating a economic bridge for the Original man now? Amazingly enough, it has nothing to do with the technical know how. It has to do with the "inner" perceptions of us, here and there. Besides lack of unity, love, commitment, dedication and purpose, nothing stands in our way from accomplishing this great feat. To have dual citizenship in countries is what most cultures (races) do in America. Whether they travel to their home lands or not, they accept a kind of heritage link or ancestral and historical connection to their kin abroad. What is it that is keeping us from the same?

With such a God fearing, peace loving group of people, it may be time that specific strategies if necessary, even schools be created to teach these crucial but necessary elements for a new middle passage. Unity, love, commitment, dedication and purpose. It must be taught to a people that have lost it, on both sides of the ocean.

A New Revolution (Renaissance) The Age of Science literacy by: M2X

The following roadmap is suggested route to the freedom the masses desire. From the starting point to the end of our struggle, failure as well as success is a possible destiny. We will rise or be destroyed. God will simply select another race and continue the path. These proposed solutions cover politics, religion, war, sex, economics, education, labor, infrastructure, transportation, shelter, health care, safety (security), entertainment, agricultural, law, environment, and space travel (The destiny of the Collective). This step by step guide is not necessarily a written-in-stone-plan, but is an outline of the basic benchmarks for a population seeking freedom from their former oppressors and condition and will assure the desired goals of the Collective. Also, it is intended to relieve any ideas of establishing new world orders, Islamic Caliph states, starting race wars and other conspiracy theories that are considered future evils, political and social catastrophes and apocalyptic doomsday scenarios.

It would be intellectually entertaining and theologically challenging to suggest that this plan can be accomplished with 144,000 people and within a time of 75 years. I wish I could say I have done the metaphysical math. I would love to point to the stars or suggest it is divinely guided or inspired. Perhaps this is for another.

PHASE I- Know Thy Self, STEP 1: Individual Ethics and morals redefined (Collective standard & criteria accepted and applied). Individual assessment level. Are you willing to be a contributor, not to a black revolution but to the black renaissance to benefit all of humanity? A person in the conscious community should look at self and ask,....what is expected of me? From the Collective? Can I stop using the nword? Stop stealing? Lying? Remain not on a proper diet, but change to a health food lifestyle? Can I reframe from excessive sport and entertainment? Do I want to live a life that could be similar to Amish, a Monk or Nun? Am I interested in Science? Do I want to change? There is a saying commonly seen on Facebook" God is not sending anyone.... He has already sent you!"

One must accept the code (way of the radical), in the Core Novus (workbook).

STEP 2: Obtain basic education --Reading, Writing, Math, Science/K-8th (General knowledge)

Are you smarter than a 8th grader? In order for a people to create a lasting nation, one that possibly was spoken of in scripture as the "here after," right here on this planet, after a present world as socially ceased to exist, "the masses" will have to be smarter than a 8th grader (level) for sure. Education should be self paced and constant for life.

STEP 3: Ma'at foundation is accepted – enhancement of existing spiritual belief and unifier. One can remain a Christian, Jew, Muslim, etc., but all fall under the guidance and unifying concept of Ma'at. If declarations are accepted as common Collective community behavior, eventually made into law, this helps with an overall spiritual foundation. This requires a belief in The One God. Free thinkers curved and uniform themselves with agonistic beliefs, to begin their spiritual search, if not for the sake of unity. Mastery of one's self helps with clarifications of scriptures. However, science and logic are primary. Ma'at declarations and principles determines society's undesirables for the masses, as well as become an individual guide. Ma'at allows uniformity between various beliefs and the basis for social cohesion within the Collective. Not everyone is going to be FOI Muslim, Newapuians, 5 percenter or Rastafarians, etc. Many don't want to be Jewish, Christian, Catholic and so on. If scripture is correct, America's implosion will be based on it's misdirected sense of morality. A future United States of Africa will should not make the same mistake! No alcohol, tobacco and addictions is stressed. (Collective approved curriculum, books, materials and lesson plans allow one to pursue a career in this world or reeducate them to be prepared for the next. Declarations will decrease the N-Variable.

STEP 3: Consciousness/Master Self

A defined state of mind and being for the individual, but identified by the Collective. Behaviors, mannerisms, thoughts actions and deeds determine whether one is in or near this state. One strives for perfection in his or her own way, in constant awareness of lowering their N-Variable. Belief in the One God is definite, pure and dedication to reconnect to the universal and cosmological order of things becomes genuine. This is the desire to strive for perfection. Not a sense of being better than others or putting yourself on a pedestal but simply knowing you can do and be better and trying to do so. You recognize the stereotypes in media and can rebuke them, you will live under a bridge in poverty before harm self or kind. The "Get-rich-or-die-trying" mentality is of this world.

PHASE II Acceptance into civilization of the Black man and Woman

STEP 1: Individually start to create networks of other likeminded individuals abroad.

You will never be truly accepted in this world. That is why this world must change. You are now about the business of making a new one and nothing could be more important. Determine franchises, entrepreneurs opportunities, and existing businesses. Attempt to move to socialist economic systems. Create ties and bonds in the African and Middle Eastern countries. Learn to watch trends in agricultural, economics, politics, and science. Collective will begin to grow and is identifiable by the behavior of groups. People are known for their behavior.

Continue looking at Africa, brain storming, face book individuals, making friends. Focus should be directed, particularly toward Africa, Middle East, South America, Mexico, Canada, China and Russia and the Diaspora and of course, your very own neighborhood.

STEP 2: Start pushing Free Education agendas/Sponsor- Reading, Writing, Math, Science/K-8th (General knowledge) for the masses

Create individual groups, crowd funding, non-profits and other individual efforts. Challenge our successful to sponsor broad based education programs and allow paths back into education for those in need and those above average. Selected investors can create new or working with existing free tuition institutions like the University of the people.org and Microsoft MITT online, where the cost is drastically reduced or dropped. With availability of online training and education, a centralized Academy could point students to selected career paths.

Programs should focus on those levels where the poor cannot make the money or find an opening through the digital "buffer" that the SYSTEM uses to keep internet education from the masses. Finally, what you learn in these schools should be something that can be immediately put to use, basic education, reading, writing, spelling, etc. with job training programs, they should be tripled and opportunities in third world countries should be stressed. As one in the Collective, a person becomes an individual that loves to learn.... anything and everything. Self-paced, self-taught/home/community schooling. A healthy mix of accredited classes should be taken, but self study should increase over time. The individual's knowledge to prepare them to become a part of a work force as well as produce a nation.

In households, the family nuclei should have a second language of Swahili, Arabic, Spanish, (a computer language). S.T.E.M. is pushed at all levels and ages.

PHASE IV True Representation and Unity

STEP 3: Accepted African Continental Rites of Passage. We move and exist not to impress other races, but to reflect a God. Create a Rites of passage (psychological test) to determine not courage, bravery, strength but African/human sanity. These rites of passages are for the purpose of ensuring better leaders, neighbors, and people on the planet, determining responsibility, trustworthiness, honor, valor and integrity as well as the fortitude to complete the duties of the Collective. Many of us in our current state simply want to get rich or die trying. This is unacceptable for the Collective. Rites of Passage systems will consists of several things, befriending an individual in Africa and African befriending individual or diaspora in America, math problems, courtship, etc.

STEP 4: C.S.T.E.M.M. involvement, career & study (Cradle to grave)

Parents can start early by presenting microscopes and telescopes, chemistry sets and remote controlled airplanes instead of foot balls, clothes, shoes and jewelry for middle school youth.. start leaning toward the subjects in high school. Art, Music, poetry, Sports, comedians and Drama are longer professions but hobbies or secondary careers only in the Collective goals. Consciousness, Science, Technology, Engineering, Math and Medicine (CSTEMM) and the various fields underneath these categories are the only acceptable careers and entrepreneur paths for the Original people. Consciousness is board, encompassing law, politics, and other needs for proper civilization. History shows that people have done far greater sacrifices that what is suggest here. individuals in the Collective are asked lives that can only be compared to groups like Monks, Quakers, Nuns, Vulcans and yes, even BORG. To have true devotion to the Collective's goals ensures movement. A grand purpose requires grand sacrifices. To stand out from this world is not only a privilege in most of the major religions, but a requirement. Becoming a race known for the scientific endeavors, their constant pursuit of wisdom should sound familiar. We left pyramids in the sands of Africa to remind us of this possibility. Science will produce the families needed for the future.

STEP 5: Establishment of a Core Novus Academy & Settlements of Science literacy Renaissance.

A New Revolution (Renaissance) Cont'd.

(Note for step 5)- Create an online communications hub that will pull selected groups of individuals to become the foundation of the Collective think tanks. Remember, not all are interested ingoing into outer space, have a desire to be in the Collective or start a science renaissance. Most simply want to see things get better.

In Hutchinson Kansas, There is a nonprofit organization called Kansas Cosmosphe & space center. This center caters to youth and instead of and amusement park of rides using the science of roller-coaster engineering to jolt one's body through the air, pushing G forces to their minimum and maximum entertainment value, instead of getting off the ride, never really considering the physics that was just applied, The Camp KAOS advertises that they take a hands on learning experience to using authentic NASA astronaut training methods.

The center is set up with a graduating program allowing youth to go through an almost rites of passage method of learning. Why aren't programs like this coming out of the Conscious community? Those that believe in mother planes? Exact science? And math? In our youth? The SYSTEM programs us to create basketball tournaments, spend millions in AAU and sport & game, keeping the genius of our people locked in fruitless bouts of competition and play. The push from sports should be steady and consistent.

PHASE III Connecting like minds and Unity

Civilization class within communities (self/family/community/world)

For the general population, the basics of life/social skills and behavioral learning. Non Afrocentric and generic, from proper restaurant etiquette and dating practices to simply not using the N-word in conversation, the basic of civilization is learned at this level. Intro to "isms," socialism, Marxism and Collectivisms as seen by the Collective, not of this world's isms fueled by capitalism, nationalistic goal and fervor. Intro to Nation building concepts.

Men's Professional & Home Training systems

Language, dress, social norms, genetic tracing of family history would be address through these system schools. Off grid/new world concepts and theories, bartering, micro economics, Conflict resolution skills, intro to Swahili, Husband wife relationships, child rearing our best African minds would create this curriculum and be presented by the Core Novus Academy. Concept of arrange marriages and new dating customs and rituals established. Father roles, Trade & skill handy man level learning/correction with well research based African centric curriculum.

Women's Professional & Home Training systems

Language, dress, social norms, genetic tracing of family history would be address through these system schools. Oprah Winfrey schools, The African female pilot. Off grid/new world concepts and theories, bartering, micro economics, Conflict resolution skills, intro to Swahili, Husband wife relationships, child rearing, our best African minds would create this curriculum and be presented by the Core Novus Academy. Health & cooking Concept of arrange marriages and new dating customs and rituals established. Home training and child rearing learning/correction with well research based African centric curriculum.

Become and represent the Collective. There should be rewards.

Collectivism as a society may or may not be a good idea. But as a guiding principle to free ones economics and social condition, it is necessary. When millions no longer think him or her and individually take on the plural pronoun, “We” and speak it (like a Pope). This is true unity. Their existence is for the resurrection of the people and to bring about their change. It is not surprising, that this new world order concept is feared by the older world that has historically been brutal and repugnant to humanity, particularly to third world and indigenous people. Most people are trained to fear a new world order, but it one looks at this world, why would you want it to continue? This is a ruse. We take on the duties of the Collective, (Recruit /Progress). There is no need of a Spy or Intelligence Agency, no military of any significance. There I no leader and no way a person can become wealthy on this concept. Main purpose is to keep unity, established the channels and network, ambassadors training. A person of the Collective knows at least three languages, with training and back ground in Still, the thought of perfection and a pathway to it is attractive. Through counseling, networking, conflict resolution and mediation the channels and relationships must be established to continue expeditious through the next phases.

PHASE IV: Goal and Purpose

Establishing protocols for existing African/ African American Networking groups/ Black Think Tanks

Strategies and tactics for focusing on activating solutions already known and creating new ones. Everything done should be done with minimal opportunity to make large amounts of money. This is where our people typically fail and/or corrupted. Illuminati was create in mysticism and occultism with realistic goals and directives. “Ain’t nobody got time for that.” Plans and actions will be deliberate, transparent, and easily recognizable as beneficial to the world.

Establishing protocols for existing Global Networking groups/ World Think Tanks

Strategies and tactics for how the rest of the world can help and the benefits of help given activating solutions already known and creating new ones. Everything done should be done with minimal opportunity to make large amounts of money. This is where our people typically fail and/or corrupted. It should be made clear that theses plan are an attempt to resurrect 2/3 of the planets population, particularly original people of the planet, otherwise known as third world people. Solutions that require little or no funds, inter-racial, interreligious groups establish agreement beneficial to both or all parties at this level.

PHASE II : Building a nation

A. Reparations Package submitted United States of America to African Americans

As mentioned earlier, monetary reparations given to the children of people held as former slaves would be catastrophic. The package should not be individualisly based but rather would effect the entire group of those considered to the descendants of slaves. A more unifying and sound approach is suggested. African American built Bullet train system across America. America get to finally pull the ugly racist thorn from her side and get to come into the 21st , century with the rest of the modern centuries.and get a get a fancy new train, once again on our backs. But this is a twofold solution, As part of the reparations package, Builds would be exclusively for the black business in those states participating in the rail system. Those black businesses would be able to contract out work to non-black businesses of course, The reason why Reparations will never be treated seriously on the floor of this Congress or by a seating president is because it is not in the vest interest of the entire population of the United states. It will have to be made beneficial to America as well. (See Bean Soup Science Vol. III)

TWO PART depends on whether YES or NO with reparations but both continue

Two satisfy the two minds of the conscious community, the flow is determined by what is put in. It would make it easier with reparations but if not B tract should be emphasized. The delay of a decision should be no means hold the time table hostage.

Where are you on the chart!?!

The Four phases of Alcoholism

The Pre-Alcoholic phase— Drinking for relaxation. The desire for a drink is considered normal, but the person doesn't have to have it.

Prodromal— One drinks until they pass out. This person is defensive about drinking, but feels guilty about it. Is in constant denial about the problem.

Crucial— At this phase, addiction occurs, Person cannot stop even when they want to. Cells in the body become dependent on alcohol. Daily life is effected, family, marriage, job, health, etc. May be prone to violence.

Chronic— Considered the final phase of alcoholism. Although treatable, many suggest it is not curable. Health issues occur, family are broken apart, children are disappointed. Individuals of the Collective prohibit alcohol.

What's out there?

Nothing burns me up more than to hear brothers and sisters (conscious) claiming they are in contact with aliens. Really? Sorry, but the Collective has to make it more difficult for you to be fooled in this world. Before anyone more of the original people get caught up with these types of cults, leaders, groups or organizations, remember; for the sake of unity, we encourage you to stay in these groups and change attitudes from within. Challenge those that make claims of contact. They may be telling the truth! However, you are not a troublemaker when seeking truth. Here's how: First, study Chemistry, Physics and Astronomy. Just a basic understanding keeps tricksters at bay as well as basic science questions that one should be able to answer if indeed they are in contact with extraterrestrial life forms. For example, if our sun were the size of an orange, the entire United States would be the length of our galaxy alone and there are millions of galaxies separated by millions of miles of space. Even traveling at the speed of light it would take years to travel the distance to the next galaxy. So, the question, "how did they get here?" should be a physics answer, not a religious or metaphysical one. When you realize the distance you would have to traverse just to visit Earth (and remain secret to the world for some reason), you understand how ridiculous the notion is or at least the necessity of proving the claim of this interstellar travel. Some might suggest alien communication and not visitation by aliens. Again there is the problem of distance. This needs to be explained in scientific detail and repeated in the testable environment. This doesn't mean one should not study telepathy. But typically, these type of imposters will suggest a certain technology brought aliens to the planet or they are only person that can "hear" the aliens. So, for the record, the only thing that is out there intelligent for now.... is the human race.

Our Voyager probe left our solar system a couple of months back with a message telling anyone or anything how to find us and how to talk to us. If your group, leader, belief, etc. truly believes in aliens, put those crystals and colorful painted charts away. Start using the radio and telescope technology to find them. Science.

What is Bean Soup Science?

The strategic assessment and logical theorizing of solutions that respond specifically to the plight of the Original People (black man and woman) on the planet Earth. Those that are first will be last, those that are last, will be first. Bean Soup Science makes the assumption that if this particularly race improves socially, culturally, economically, and spirituality, technologically, then all other races will follow suit. All of humanity can continue toward its design and destined path.

Editorial Continued....

As John H. Clarke would say “Egypt, A Nile Valley civilization, was already old before Europe was born.” Indeed, there are pyramids in the sands of Africa that today anthropologists have no idea how they were created and so perfectly aligned in construction as well as to constellations of certain stars. The implications found in black history are profound and although debated and in many cases hidden away from the masses of the entire population of the planet, the history of original people cries out to be learned and explored. This is more than acknowledging science, art, music, government, poetry, medicine, philosophy and the majority of those things typically found in civilization today can trace its origins back to a black Africa where these original people hail.

There are theories of contacting “off world intelligence” and even “documented historical psychic phenomena” that make these original people even more interesting and deserving of study. But through history, and in the major religions, it was as if humans were always meant to be more, much more than what they appear to be now. In fact, that is the path of perfection, to explore and nothing has been created more vast, more immeasurable and deeper than the cosmos and the mind of man, two outer and inner fathomless voids that demand exploration. So what happened? If one considers any definition of perfection, one can clearly determine we are far from it especially these original people who have had more time to peruse it than all other races. How did an original people of the planet, striving for perfection at one time, possibly achieving it thousands of years ago, come to produce the lineage that we see today or what they are now? More on this in our next issue!

“We are the Collective. We are assigned to guide the so called conscious in their now futile effort to raise the mentally dead, deaf, dumb and blind, what this world calls “negro.” To nurture a renaissance of science literacy back within the cultural norms of the Original Man of this planet, ultimately re-connecting him back to the universal and cosmological order of things; so they may open their third eye and continue the venture to the stars. We are the Collective.”
